Multiple Dwellings . . Threat or Benefit?

SPRING CLEAN-UP time in Orinda conducted annually by the Orinda Beautification Committee will receive a big boost from many volunteers including the Girl Scouts. Rory Reed of Troop 107 (left) is emptying a wishing well which someone thoughtlessly filled with a carton of unwanted magazines. Brownie Ann Louise Smith is ready to clean litter from the base of the planter box.

Beautification Group Maps Clean-up Campaign

The Orinda Beautification Committee has once again planned a clean-up, paint-up program for the community during March.

School posters on the anti-litter theme will be placed around town on Monday. The committee will have an exhibit of car litterbags in the Wells Fargo bank window.

An extensive clean-up campaign such as those held in previous years has not been planned. However, the girl scouts have been asked to help by cleaning up litter thrown into the redwood planters around town.

A STREETSWEEPER has been contacted who would clean the Crossroads area once a month at a cost of 75 cents or less per business per month. Until this becomes an actuality, merchants are asked to clean in front of their business.

The committee has asked owners and tenants on the Village side to clean up the back of their lots along Camino Pablo.

Scouts and other young people's groups are urged to consider the following list to see what they can do to help: Clean up litter on Bryant and Orinda Ways from Santa Maria to Camino Sobrante; El Toyonal intersection and other bad spots;

Stain plant frames at Davis and Bryant Way with redwood stain; stain tin planters on triangle at Moraga Highway and Camino Pablo; re-stain redwood planters at Village and Crossroals.

ANYONE wishing to donate redwood stain will be most welcome. For information regarding work projects or donation of stain, call Mrs. Alfred Young, CL 4-3972.

Orinda organizations that donated olive trees to help beautify the entrance to Orinda at Camino Pablo and Brookwood Road can now be identified by name plaques. Norman Tuttle and Neill Porter of the beautification committee made the arrangements.

Litter cans obtained from Standard Oil are currently being painted by Butler-Conti in Lafayette. They will be stencilled by the Orinda Art Center members for presentation to the community during the clean-up campaign.

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce will contribute $50 toward the cost of this project. The cans will be painted to blend with the redwood tubs and business premises. The Orinda Junior Chamber also donated funds for the litter cans.

'Plant a Tree' Week Will Begin Tuesday

"Plant A Tree" week, Tuesday through March 14 will be observed in Orinda by Scout groups planting trees along Camino Pablo, which someday will be Orinda's Parkway.

Members of the Orinda Junior Chamber will plant pines and toyon to screen Woolsey's Parking lot. The Orinda Beautification committee urges all residents to plant more flowering trees.

The committee suggests that Improvement Associations consider planting roads with flowering trees and plan this action for next year.

Mrs. Dorothy Begg has been commended by the committee for her planting on Camino Pablo, in front of the Village Beauty Studio.

A girl scout troop under the leadership of Mrs. Marjorie York recently planted seven pine trees along Camino Pablo in front of the Firehouse. The Fire Department will assist with watering them next summer.

Orindans Attend Beautification Conference

"The Positive Approach to Community Beautification" was the theme of a conference sponsored by the California State Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Claremont last Friday.

Speakers included L. W. Lane, publisher of Sunset Magazine; Michael H. Antonacci, Director of Planning for the City of San Jose; Frederick A. Chase, executive director of "Los Angeles Beautiful"; Wm. J. Losh, Roadside Cleanup Chairman for the State Chamber, and luncheon speaker William Penn Mott, Superintendent of Parks for the City of Oakland, (and advisor to Orinda's Beautification Committee).

Anti-Litter Poster Contest Is Under Way

Orinda's Anti-litter Poster contest is underway again, under the sponsorship of the Orinda Beautification committee and with the cooperation of Joseph Sheaff, superintendent, Orinda Union School District.

Students in the 4th through 8th grades of the six Orinda Schools are participating. The 10 best posters from each school will be given Awards of Merit and will compete in the judging on Monday for blue ribbons.

WINNING posters will be distributed throughout the shopping district of Orinda for the month of March, Conservation Month, Mrs. Frederick F. Rust, chairman of the School Poster Contest and a member of the Orinda Beautification Committee announced.

Serving on the Judging Committee are Mrs. Wellington Ray from the Orinda Art Center, Mrs. Fred Crawshaw from the Orinda Garden Club, Mrs. Alfred R. Young from the Orinda Valley Garden Club, and Mrs. A. P. Reck from the Hilltop Garden Club.

THE PURPOSE of the poster contest is to stress to children as well as adults of the community the importance of maintaining the beauty of our surroundings.

Manslaughter Hearing Is This Morning

Preliminary hearing will be held today at 9:30 a.m. for Mrs. Barbara Vendt, 42, of 1056 Hacienda Drive, Walnut Creek, charged with manslaughter.

The felony charge was made last Friday in Judge Betsy Fitz-Gerald Rahn's municipal court, and Judge Rahn set the preliminary hearing date.

Mrs. Vendt was the driver of a car which crashed head-on into a small foreign car driven by insurance executive John Corcorran, 35, of Walnut Creek, early in the morning, February 16.

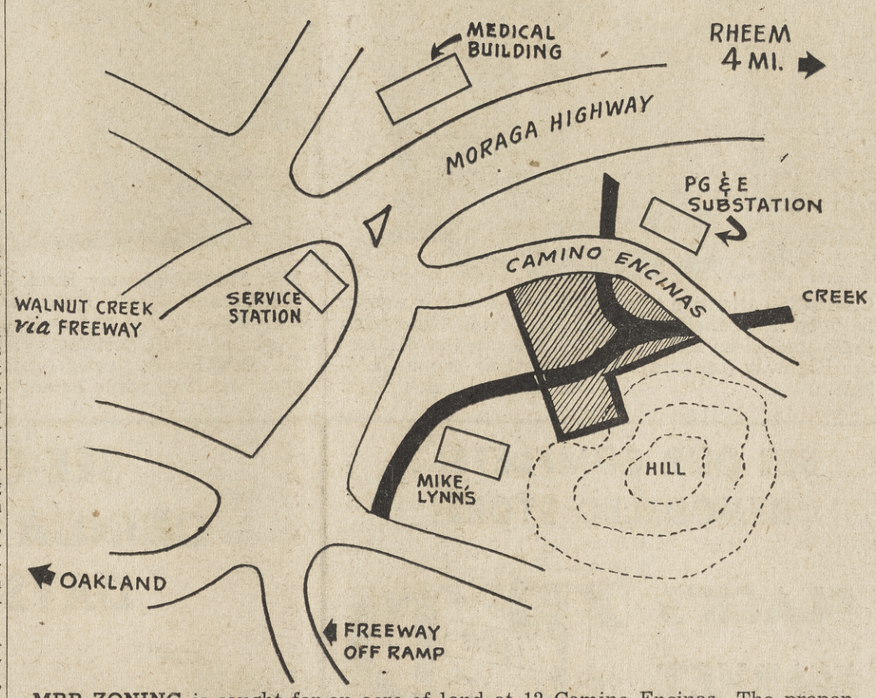
CORCORRAN, the father of five boys, was killed almost instantly.

California Highway Patrol officers reported that Mrs. Vendt's car was headed west on the eastbound lane of the Mt. Diablo Freeway when the crash occurred.

They said she entered the off-ramp at Ygnacio Valley Road, and drove for two miles on the wrong side of the freeway, despite the honking of horns and flashing of lights by other motorists.

HER HUSBAND, Carl Vendt, an Oakland attorney, refused permission for administration of an alcohol blood test to Mrs. Vendt.

Mrs. Vendt's bail was set by Judge Rahn at $2500.



MRB ZONING is sought for an acre of land at 12 Camino Encinas. The proponents hope to build an 11 unit apartment building which they believe would be an ideal buffer between the residential and commercial zones.

MRB Zoning Sought For Camino Encinas Lot

Plans for a proposed two story, 11 unit apartment building at 12 Camino Encinas were presented to the board of directors of the Orinda Association Monday by Joe B. Smoot and Joseph Duffel.

Smoot told the association that the land in question is "ideally insulated against single family dwellings, therefore good for apartments. Smoot and Duffel seek to have the area zoned MRB.

"An apartment building would serve as a good buffer between the single family residential area and the expansion of roads and business, creeping commercial encroachments," Smoot said.

MRB ZONING would permit one unit per 25 cubic feet. The proposed building would be well within this allowance. Smoot presented an architect's drawing of the proposed building. The apartments would be of the deluxe type, with living room, dining room, kitchen and bath downstairs and two or three bedrooms and bath upstairs.

Smoot and Duffel explained that they hoped to attract older and/or semi retired people who at most might have one older child still living at home. The apartments (two bedroom units) would rent for $225 per month.

"WE FEEL that there is a need in Orinda for a building of this kind," Duffel told the association. "There are people in Orinda who have lived here for years," he continued, "but who no longer need a large home and do not wish the care of lawns and gardens.

"These people would like to remain in Orinda," but as it is now, they have to leave the community they love unless they continue to maintain a no longer needed home."

The proposed building would have adequate parking, Smoot said, and landscaping would be so designed as to screen the paved areas.

"We would not have an 'asphalt jungle'," he added. The proponents believe the hill rising behind the proposed building forms a natural barrier between the apartments and the single family residences.

A HEARING on the rezoning request is scheduled before the county planning commission on Tuesday. Smoot has agreed to ask for a continuance at that time to March 28.

The association requested the delay in order that the association planning committee and directors may study the situation and determine what action, if any the association should take.

Residents of the Camino Encinas area who were present at the association meeting are opposed to the planned structure. It was pointed out that property between Brookwood and the freeway had been rezoned MR (a higher density than MRB).

FEAR OF apartments "growing like wildfire" in Orinda was a cause of major concern to the directors. Dick Bartle, chairman of the association planning committee pointed out that the lot next to the one owned by Smoot and Duffel would probably end up with MRB zoning and more apartments.

Bruce Howard, association president, directed the planning committee to study the situation, and if necessary to call a special meeting. The association did not wish to make a hasty decision based primarily on the general feeling of "we just don't want an apartment building."

Smoot pointed out that apartments he developed in Walnut Creek had added $13,000 to the tax coffers, but had not increased the school population even by one.

Freeway Safety Meeting Set For March 15

The Diablo Highway Improvement Federation will meet March 15 at 8 p.m. in room 106 at Acalanes High School to discuss and review the safety of local freeways and access ramps.

Federation chairman Harold Mutnick said, "We don't know if there is an actual safety hazard or not, or whether the two recent fatal accidents are just tragic coincidences. But we feel the matter should be explored, and if a need is indicated, remedial action should be taken."

The county traffic engineer, Mark Kermit, will attend the session. Also invited to attend, according to Mutnick, are a representative from the Division IV office of the State Division of Highways in San Francisco and a representative for Victor Sauer.

Proposal Seeks To Unify Fire Districts

A proposal to unify the Mountain View Central and Mt. Diablo Fire Districts was referred to the Fire District Advisory Committee Tuesday by the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors.

ECCC Fire Commissioners Have Meeting

Eastern Contra Costa County Fire Protection District commissioners met Wednesday at the Rheem Fire Station. Clarence Evans, newest commissioner attended the meeting.

Frank Arata was back as a commissioner to fill the vacancy of Lee Higgins who was the last of the original commissioners.

Donald Rheem donated a 12 by 15 foot building to the district. Chief Al Baitx was authorized to move the building from its present location at the Carroll Ranch to the Rheem Station where it will be used for storage.

It was discovered that for a period of two hours on Saturday and on Sunday no one is on duty to answer the fire phone at the county prison farm. Bob Hanson was authorized to hire two volunteers to cover these time periods.

The commissioners discussed the consolidation issue but no action was taken at this meeting.

Some Straight Talk on Housing by a Reader

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The following letter was recently received from Robert M. Davis, an Oakland attorney and an Orinda resident. He has some pertinent observations on the Open Covenant issue.

His remarks, in fact, are pertinent to each of our communities. You will find, I think, that he has some thought-provoking material here.

For your information, here is a little background on Mr. Davis, which he supplied with the letter.

He was born in Nashville, Tennessee and has lived in the Bay Area for about 40 years, except for his wartime service as a naval officer.

HIS ANCESTRY is Scotch, Irish and Welsh, and he is an Episcopalian by religion. He is an attorney and was president of the Alameda County Bar Association during 1960. He makes his home in Orinda.

Here is what he has to say:

Something akin to a hydrogen bomb recently exploded over our peaceful community. Persons who were formerly close friends are now glaring at each other with suspicion. Former friendly acquaintances are referring to each other as Communist, Fascist, stupid, blind or just plain crazy.

SERMONS FROM pulpits are alluded to as ridiculous or impractical, and cocktail party guest lists are being revised to eliminate "complicating mixtures" of people who used to see eye to

The meeting will be held in the Miramonte gymnasium.

Standish Massie, assisted by instructors Harry Putten and Robert Anderson of Miramonte high school and members of the Orinda Rotary Club who will act as moderators, a slate of 56 panelists and moderators, representing every major vocational and professional pursuit, have been engaged, and there will be presented fifteen basic vocational and professional panels.

The panels will run simultaneously in the various rooms and there will be three sessions of each panel to permit students to inquire into three possible vocations and/or professions of their choice.

PANELS ARE conducted on an informal question and answer basis after a brief introduction of the vocational and/or professional field by the panelist in charge.

All senior students are required to attend Miramonte Career Night as a requisite for their American problems course, and their parents are especially invited to participate with them in this interesting and provocative event.

Ready to Relax? Try The Sun Suburbia Sea Party

Let's go to Hawaii!

Sound impossible? Beyond your wildest dreams?

It doesn't have to be. The Sun Suburbia Sea Party to Hawaii, via the luxurious Matson Liner (probably the Lurline) can be the answer to your dream.

Sponsored in cooperation with Suburbia Today magazine, which you'll receive with your Sun next week, the entire 17-day trip can be yours for $598.50.

PERHAPS THAT sounds like a lot of money, but look at what you get. Your passage to and from the Islands, your hotel reservations (paid, of course) at the fabulous Hawaiian Village. Limousine service to and from the ship on both ends, and a series of special events.

The only thing not covered is the cost of your meals while you are in the Islands.

You will find more information on the cruise in later edition of The Sun. It will leave on May 10 from San Francisco and will end 17 days later. (And you'l lhave a good tan to prove it.)

Here's a taste of what your life will be like aboard ship:

The last swirls of serpentine have twirled into space. The last kisses have been blown. Another voyage has begun.

Then miles beyond the Golden Gate Bridge, the last tie with the mainland is dropped when the harbor pilot leaves via launch at the lightship. The coast of California fades in the distance.

The big white Lurline, flagship of the Matson fleet, is one again bound for Honolulu, one of the 75 sailings the four Matson passenger ships are making this year from San Francisco and Los Angeles to Hawaii and the South Pacific.

Aboard are over a thousand persons—700 of them passengers and 425, crew. And there's a cruise host, a native-born Hawaiian, who, besides helping passengers get to knew each other, gives complimetnary hula lessons.

ONCE AT SEA, the rush and tensions of everyday life are forgotten. Clocks, deadlines, all petty details are left behind. Time aboard ship is your own.

After breakfast, which you can enjoy in bed if you like, there's a wide choice of recreation. The ship's newspaper, delivered to your stateroom door every morning, lists the daily shipboard activities as well as highlights of world news.

You might swim in the mosaic pool, or play shuffleboard, ping pong or paddle tennis, or try trap-shooting. For those more inclined to take it easy, there are games like bingo and horseracing (the wooden kind), movies and travel talks, and a well-stocked library.

IF YOU prefer to lounge in a deck chair, or relax in the lounge, you'll find a steward always available. Every night, there is dancing to the music of the ship's band and, once a voyage, the ship hosts all passengers to a gala champagne party.

About the only activity at sea regulated by the clock is eating—and even that is pretty flexible. There's an early bird breakfast, starting at 7, and regular breakfast served to 10:15; lunch up to 2:15 p.m., tea at 4, dinner as late as 9 p.m., a buffet at midnight, and no time limit on room service. You can literally eat your way around the clock on a luxury liner, with everything "on the house" of course.

IN DEFERENCE TO sea-whetted appetites, Matson dining room menus offer as many as 74 breakfast and luncheon items, and up to 90 choices for dinner. All of them are prepared by a top-flight chef and his staff of 74 assistants.

On a typical trip to Hawaii, five thousand meals are served, including 51 pounds of caviar, 310 pounds of filet mignon, 210 pounds of lobster, 170 gallons of ice cream and sherbet, and 6800 glasses of milk. Island specialties like poi, papaya, pineapple, mangoes and mahimahi contribute much toward getting passengers "in the mood" for Hawaii.

Approaching Honolulu, a festive welcome always awaits the Matsonia or Lurline. Colorful catamarans shove off from Waikiki Beach on boat days to greet the liner and escort her to dockside. There, the Royal Hawaiian Band plays, hula girls dance, and garlands of fragrant leis—Hawaii's famous "aloha" gesture — drape all passengers.

But most exciting of all are the turnaround sailings from Hawaii. Many passengers, fresh from the beach, board in shorts and muumuus. The lei ladies, lined up at dockside, work at breakneck speed stringing blossoms together to meet the "More! More" demand. Pops of champagne corks echo around the ship. And from many passageways you hear the scraps of newly-learned Hawaiian songs and the plink-plunk sound of ukeleles.

SUDDENLY the whistle blasts. The band strikes up the sentimental and stately "Aloha Oe." Coconut hats are waved in farewell. Slowly, slowly, the ship backs out, turns, and heads in the direction of California, followed for a short ways by scores of small boats.

Move Over Neighbor, It's Getting Crowded Here!

THIS RECENT AERIAL photograph of Central Contra Costa County gives some idea of our continuing growth. Walnut Creek is right in the center, with the Lafayette Interchange on the far left. Pleasant Hill is upper center.

EVER WONDER WHAT some of the country behind our "developed areas" looks like? This picture, taken from Castle Mountain in Walnut Creek, is pointed directly toward the Berkeley Hills to the west. This is the country that surrounds Orinda and Lafayette.

BROODING MT. DIABLO is the key to Central Contra Costa County From each of our communities, the "Old Devil" watches over us.

COUNTRY LIKE THIS is a haven for horseback riders, and miles and miles of trails wind through our local hills. And lots of people just like to look at the country the way it is, too!

PICTURES WERE taken by Don W. Jones of Lafayette with the new Brooks Paubel Veriwide 100 degree camera, on 2¼ x 3¼ Plus X film with a K-2 filter. Shots were taken from Castle Hill from noon to late afternoon, mostly at 1/60th at f.22.

Here's an Idea of Past 20 Years' Expansion

Twenty years ago, 8900 people lived in Central Contra Costa County, the area bounded on the west by the Berkeley Hills, on the east by Mt. Diablo, on the north by Diablo Valley College, and on the south by the Alameda County line. By 1950, nearly 30,000 persons lived in the area and by April 1960, 103,444 persons were counted by the census takers.

Between 1950 and 1960, Contra Costa County as a whole showed an increase in population of 110,046. In the core area of the central part of the county our population increase was 73,592, or approximately 67 per cent of the total population gain chalked up by the county as a whole.

LET'S TAKE A look at what's happened in each community:

The Pleasant Hill area, which in 1950 was just beginning to develop and had a population of under 5700, now has a population substantially in excess of 25,000.

The City of Walnut Creek, which in 1950 had a population of 2420, now exceeds 10,000. Saranap has grown from 2362 to 6450, and other unincorporated areas immediately adjoining Walnut Creek tally another 15,000, bringing the total Walnut Creek area population above 35,000.

To the south, the Alamo-Danville area, just 10 years ago a sleepy farmland, now has a population in excess of 13,000, a couple of thousand in Alamo, a couple more in Diablo, and 3600 in Danville.

SOME 18,000 persons live in the Lafayette area, 7200 in Lafayette, the rest in the beautiful valleys that surround the town.

The Orinda-Moraga area has a 1961 population in excess of 17,000 with some 4700 living in Orinda, 5600 in Orinda Village, and 4100 in Moraga.

But growth to date is insignificant compared to the Bay Area Council's estimate that by 2020 AD 2,116,300 persons will live in Contra Costa County. That would represent an average annual increase comparable to the present population of Pleasant Hill! Mover over neighbors, it's getting crowded out here!

CENTRAL CONTRA COSTA County is predominantly an area of families with children with the average number of residents per household coming awfully close to four.

Most residents are home owners—85 per cent of those living in homes valued at under $15,000, and nearly 10 per cent of those living in homes valued at over $30,000.

Less than 10 per cent of the households are supported by more than a single worker.

Most residents work someplace else, but shop for needs either near where they live, or in the great new regional shopping facilities in Walnut Creek.

Central Contra Costa is growing fast, but has, so far, succeeded in preserving the lazy pattern of country living that has made it a great place to live and play.

WITH GROWTH OF population, land values have increased substantially, and are still climbing. Orinda lots, which sold in the late forties for $2500, now bring $10,000 and $12,000, while land converted from residential to commercial use has increased in some areas from $5000 an acre to as high as $35,000.

But land is still a solid investment throughout the area for the development of Central Contra Costa has just begun and may be expected to follow the pattern of southern California and the San Mateo peninsula, where land prices have risen to new ceiling arter new ceiling before leveling off . . . if ever they will.

ALAMO AND DANVILLE are growing rapidly too. Compare the flat orchard land in this picture with the more rugged hill country in the other photos on this page, and you'll see why level lots are expensive in Contra Costa County!

NOT ALL OF OUR LAND is inhabited yet. As you can see, the slopes of Mt. Diablo are still relatively free from development, providing the eye with a restful pause from the bustle of our busy community life.

County Construction Up; Concord's 'Surprising'

Building construction in urban Contra Costa County increased about 10 per cent last year although the total for the county dropped 2.7 per cent to $88,833,200. This is according to a compilation of building permits by the Contra Costa County Development Association.

The total for 1959 was $91,298,770.

Figures were obtained from the office of County Building Inspector Rudy Kraintz and from the 11 cities.

CONCORD showed a surprising increase of 76 per cent and racked up a total of $15,922,591 to lead the cities in 1960 construction. Concord's 1959 figure was $9,010,873.

Richmond showed a slight decline from the previous year but its figure of $10,171,218 accounted for more than a fifth of the urban construction total of $49,308,050.

Cities showing increases included Antioch, Martinez and Walnut Creek.

The figures showed a total of 3718 single dwellings—2119 in the citiesa nd 1599 in the unincorporated areas, for a total of $52,322,261.

Other housing construction in duplexes, triplexes and multiple dwellings accounted for $9,031,129 in permits.

COMMERCIAL construction increased from $6,024,230 in 1959 to $7,044,733 last year while industrial permits dropped from $6,050,386 in 1959 to $2,539,378.

The total number of permits was up from 9920 in 1959 to 10,246 last year.

Walnut Creek's total was $6,162,965.

This included $1,544,311 in new business construction, and $43,000 in industrial construction.

Some 392 building permits were issued in Walnut Creek. Seventeen of these were classed as business and three as industrial.

Retarded School Director Will See Workshop

Mrs. Margaretjane King, director of the Lynn Training Center for retarded young people, will attend the California Conference of Workshops for the Handicapped in San Mateo this weekend.

The conference will be conducted jointly by San Francisco State College and work-training center, Aid Retarded Children, Inc., in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the California Council for Retarded Children.

The purpose of the conference is to provide an opportunity for directors of work-training centers (sheltered workshops) for the mentally retarded to discuss mutual problems and to receive information and guidance.

Mrs. King will also attend a one day training institute on work-training centers for the mentally retarded on Monday at the Work Training Center, Aid Retarded Children, Inc., in San Francisco.

"The Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County is sponsoring Mrs. King for those four days of guidance and instruction so that the mentally retarded young people under her supervision may have full advantage of every latest development in training and teaching the mentally retarded," said Terry Haws, president.

Magnin Enters So. California

Joseph Magnin Company, Inc., a group of women's specialty stores with headquarters in San Francisco, is entering the Southern California area.

Where Are Happy People? Answer's In Suburbia!

A nationwide survey now underway, indicates that the happiest people live in Suburbia's pleasant places, says poll-taker Dr. George Gallup in the March issue of Suburbia Today, which will appear next Friday with your Sun.

Even the happiest people have their problems, though. One of the most serious of these (to the tune of $100 million worth of damage each syear), says reporter Ed Sammis, is termites. Here's a rundown of how to spot the hungry little beasts and what to do when they invade.

ANOTHER common pest is crab grass. Garden expert John Brimer reviews the situation and suggests ways of coping with the problem NOW, before sowing your good lawn seed.

With Easter only a few weeks away, there's a feature about how to make beautiful birds and flowers out of blown eggs, a bit of dye and simple materials such as pipe cleaners and crepe paper.

There is also a story for all the young people who will soon begin summer vacations outlining the kind of jobs waiting for them and how to go about getting them — everything from harvesting crops to working on cyclotrons to cat-sitting.

Then, veteran actor Sir Cedric Hardwicke is interviewed this month by veteran actor Sir Cedric Hardwicke, who wittily asks —and answers—questions on life, love, Hollywood and the theater.

WHEN THE Joseph N. Bells were remodeling their kitchen, they began taking all their meals at the dining room table. They've been eating and gathering there ever since, says author Bell, and find that the big gracious table makes a natural center for family activity.

Then, there are two pages of pictures showing how a burro named Simpson (bought by mail order for $87.50), has brought a new world of fun and responsibility into the lives of three youngsters in suburban Pelham, N. Y.

The fashion feature this month shows the latest looks for the bowling lanes and proves the delicate fabrics and high styling can go bowling—and then to a party or the theater afterwards.

IN SUBURBIA'S penetrating news column this month there are some profound observations concerning the influence of nicotine on dogs, of the bedroom on the tax situation and of rye bread on fine art.

Finally our Suburbia—Any Day! cartoonists (artists all), pen a few uniue comments about modern art, the people who turn it out, and the people who like to have it around.

Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Weekend Bottle Drive Will Aid 14-20 Club Fund

The 14-20 Club is gaining recognition as a powerful and well organized group of teenagers working for a teenage center for the Orinda-Lafayette area.

This club was formed to meet what they feel is a desperate need for an activity center for teenagers. To date, the 14-20 Club has raised $56.50 on a cake sale, and last week-end $40 was made washing cars. This week-end a bottle drive is planned. Volunteer workers are being sought for this drive. All those willing to help please report at Miramonte high school at 10 a.m. Saturday, March 4, 1961.

In the near future, a dance will be held featuring a popular disc jockey.

Meetings of the 14-20 Club are open to all teenagers and are announced in the press. This is a big chance for teens to work for something worthwhile for the community.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

My Favorite Things

Spring settling over Suburbia . . . The sky saturated with sunshine, the twilight painted in a mauve-pink glow, the evenings sprinkled w/star dust, flooded with moonlight & the early-bird bursting of song when another day comes forth w/beautiful dawning.

THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC to my ears . . . the cows mooing on the nearby hillsides, the birds cooing in the nearby trees, the babbling bluejays begging for their morning breaderumbs & the seven o'clock sound of the first child up & out to retrieve the morning paper.

MY FAVORITE THINGS . . . The fresh fragrance of coffee pehking on the stove, the tinkling of cups & saucers taken down from the cupboard, the morning news & music on the radio & the window flung open for the fresh feel of a new day.

The parakeet begging to be uncovered, merrily chirping, the children bent over their cereal bowls (slurping!), the usually friendly fight for the funnies & the sports section & ultimately the hurried scramble to the bus stop.

THE FRIENDLY RING of the telephone, the friendly ping of the washing machine, the punctilious arrival of the milk man who runs down the stepstones, delivers his dairy goods & disappears like the Invisible Man. (Sometimes a new man has taken over the route but it's two months before you know it!)

THE NOONTIME squeal of the mailman's truck . . . The sight of a young mother licking an ice cream cone right along w/her lilliputs . . . & another young mother emerging from the library w/an armful of toddlers, an armload of BOOKS.

THE GOLD RUSH glory of the blooming yellow acacias . . . The suddenly, it's spring sight of flowering fruit trees studding the streets & gardens like so many pink & white powderpuffs.

The sounds of the school bell & the children at recess echoing from more than a mile away . . . Lunch on the deck in the warmth of the sun, just you & the birds & the bees & the blessed arrival of another springtime season.

AT ORINDA SCHOOLGROUND, Sportster Don Texdahl attracting a crowd of boys w/his automatic batting & pitching machine . . . In front of Lucky's, a handsome police dog stretched out in the midst of the parkway contentedly concentrating on a bone.

The young boy (who had just given it to him) had gone back to the Meat Dept., asked for a bag of bones & the clerk, giving him a huge one, said, "You think he'll eat that one?" The youngster replied, "I think he will. He just tried to take my arm off" . . .

WHEE, The People! Like Lucie Hupp attending the Civic Unity meet who listened while she worked on SOMETHING which turned out to be a hand-crocheted bean bag (complete w/beans) which she turned around & presented to Grandma Dorothy Barden during a pause in the evening's program. For Dorothy's grandchildren, of course.

TOMMY WINFREE'S mother Millie attdg. the Japanese Art Exhibit in Oakland, was queried about the artistic & interesting necklace she was wearing. Just happens it wasn't made by the Indians nor wasn't imported from Mexico. It wasn't found in an arty bohemian shop, Not at all! It was the labor of love of son Tom, who fashioned it from lacquered rolled paper during his summer school session last year!

IN ORINDA STORE, Mrs. Robert (Clarice) Johnson feeling soooo badly, just as if SHE'D undergone major surgery & no wonder . . . Her mama poodle's precious poodle pups, just 3 wks. old, had been to the Vet's to have their tails cut off! OUCH!

SHADES of Rudy Vallee & his Vagabond Lover . . . Hooray for the Miramonte Parents' Club planning their Sat. Night Jamboree for April 8 & deciding to theme their whole scheme around the Very Nostalgic THIRTIES . . . esp. on goings-on around the bay area, like the christening of the bay bridge, the coming of the World's Fair & the Int'l Exposition, the big name bands' popularity, etc.!

A group of male singers, chosen from our paternal ranks, will serenade that night w/the college songs like THE WHIFFENPOOF & what have you . . . Well, for tunes of the day, Chrmn. Lid Miles is looking for sheet music of My Gal Sal, Marie, Vagabond Lover & maybe if you dig down in the old piano bench, who knows?

Accentuate the Positive

A RECENT SIGN on Jim Jackson's Party Service place read "Ours has more bounce to the ounce" . . . while over in Lafayette, the Drug Store urges you on its marquee to "Try Alkaseltzer for the wrath of grapes!"

I DREAMT I WENT to the Santa Maria Rummage Sale . . . but I didn't come home w/the bargain one lady did . . . She found a brand new black lace & red satin Merry Widow (& if you don't know what THAT is, we're not telling!) Instead of putting up a twenty bill for it, she took it home for a quarter!

DON'T MISS the buys. Bring your lunch & stay awhile. Open daily in the Parish Hall at the top of Santa Maria Way from 10 to 4!

LIKE TWO KIDS in a Candy Store are Renate Cope & June Hale, who launched their joint association in a new Ceramic Hobby venture this week w/an Open House . . . The little guest house in the rear of Renate's Canyon Dr. home has been turned into a home studio for the pair to share in their favorite hobby w/friends. Materials available.

SPEAKING OF MOSIACS, we got our first look at our Girl Scout Troop's long-claying project, a tri-part mural depicting life at Twin Canyon Day Camp & we were stunned! It is a work of art by 11 sixth-grade girls under the expert guidance of Troop Leader Kay Marshall & expert-mosaicist Mary Kyle.

NATURE abounds in bits of broken tile, glass, rocks, shells & pebbles all being fashioned into creatures of the forest & woods, from quail, turtle, bee & bird to wise old owl, chameleon & even the lowly ant. The girls are to be congratulated & on completion, there's no doubt it will be a long-lasting posterity piece.

THE YOUNG LADIES working on it are Linda Grimes, Pam Marshall, Marcia Brooks, Marcia Dodge, Janet Bowman, Dana Van Dyne, Megan Monahan, Ann Perry, Marilyn Titmus, Barbara Braly & Emily Whitt.

DIDJA know that the Leo Lemires who moved up Sebastopol way are expecting a family addition . . . & that Phyllis McAdams, who has a brand new baby son, was showered midweek w/little & bigger-sized baby blue things at a party given at Grace Hanks' & hostessed by Grace, Lois Pixley & Tinita Van Duyne.

Sprouse-Reitz's Maudie Nie & her husband Ted just last week welcomed to our suburban U.S. soil, Ted's sister & brother-in-law, a Very English Pair, who have given up the London Fog to Live Happily Ever After in our California clime.

RICKY JOHANSON, son of the Harold Johansons of Loma Vista, is just about the luckiest boy that our young son knows. You know how kids are about contests. They DRIVE YOU NUTS entering them, filling in ticket stubs, talk of nothing else, so positive are they that they're going to win.

This is just how Ricky was at Christmastime when he dropped his lucky ticket into the Payless Market Pot & they pulled out a plum for him! He KNEW he was going to win, talked of nothing else night & day, exasperated his family until finally one night at midnight, a call from the store. Sure enough, Payless paid off & Ricky is the envied owner of a magnificent electric train which has so many darned accessories it takes all the neighborhood kids to help him get everything running!

WISH I HAD THAT KIND OF LUCK! I can't even make an Honorable Mention list on "Why I like Snapwrap" . . . The last time I won anything was Way Back When they had Grocery Night at the local flickerhouse!

PARTIES & MORE PARTIES have preceded the southern-peregrination of Marie Bishop, who because of a job transfer for husband Dick, moves her family to LaCanada soon . . . Mrs. Ted (Dorothy) Taylor & Mrs. John (Margaret) Hall gave her a Bon Voyage soiree complete w/surprise gifts & the Taylors also entertained for the children as well last Sunday at a family "Bye, Bye."

MILLS COLLEGE ALUMNI partied pot-luck style at the Channing Kilburns' in Sleepy Hollow last Sat. night in honor of John & Jane Detmold (he's the new Mills vice-pres.) . . .

Partaking of Arline Chapman's prime main dish as well as other delicacies donated by the "girl-grads" of Mills were Em & Ben Randall, Stu & Jean Henderson, the John Goldeens, Helen & Jack Lackey, Lid & Kirk Miles, to name a few.

ADIEUS & FOND Farewells were said to the group's prexy, Barbara Werlin, who w/Jerry & children will soon move to Santa Monica. She'll turn over the gavel to vice-pres. Polly Boardman.

THE POT-LUCK Fare must have been full of vitamins, for Sunday we saw Stu Henderson doing an all-day job of pruning his hedge along Loma Vista (which is getting a good trimming along w/El Toyonal in prep for county road improvements).

A HEART TO HEART talk followed dinner & demi-tasses at the Dr. Jim Eldred's recently when the Thoracic surgeon & his wife Yolande entertained at a cozy dinner party for Marian Samson & her medic husband, Paul, who is one of the top Thoracic specialists. Throwing in a few architectural quips was Dave Coleman, who w/his wife Betty completed the enjoyable evening.

DR. SAMSON, by the way (they live in Happy Valley), stands almost SEVEN feet tall & was an Olympic Swimming Champ in 1928 which is why he's so interested in the Eldred's tadpole Mary Lee. She is copping swim honors all over the place & got her start at Orinda Park Pool.

TWO ORINDA women have been elected to top office in the Berkeley Alumni Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, nat'l music sorority. Lois Flenner, a violinist, will wield the gavel as president of the group aided & abetted by Helen Holzinger, soprano, who will serve as vice-pres. & program chairman. No sharps or flats now, ladies. Stay in tune!

A DREAM COMES TRUE for Marian & Bob Brown this summer when they christen their Camp Beaverbrook for boys & girls, 8-14, at Cobb Valley in the mts. of Lake County.

Five years ago they located the ideal spot on which to build their camp & for the past four and a half yrs. it has been a real Family Project building during weekends & vacations on the campsite which is part of the 90 acres of varied terrain they purchased . . . 25 acres of level meadow, 65 acres of woods & mountains & half miles of Kelsey Creek abounding in beaver, turtles, frogs, trout & polliwogs.

We wish them well, this widely-known & much beloved pair who feel their Dream Come True has a psychological beginning. After all, the Two Of Them met at a summer camp at Russian River over 25 yrs. ago.

ORINDAN VETS of over 14 yrs., they have three children, Ron 19, Robin 17 & Carolyn 14, are both inveterate music lovers (Bob plays the piano, organ, accordion, uke, etc. & Marian writes lyrics & sings w/the famous Orinda Baguettes) both have had long enjoyable experiences in youth activities in the Orinda Community Church.

SUNDAY afternoon at 3 p.m. they will show colored films of Beaverbrook at Fellowship Hall in the Community Church to all interested parents & children. You are welcome to warm up around the make-believe campfire!

A BRUNCH PARTY & shower hostessed by Dorothy Huddelson & Nell Hutton recently honored Janice Parnham, who'll wed Donald Scott Cooper on March 11 . . . A Fall Wedding is planned by Judith Lee Baumann, dghtr. of the Charles Maumanns of Via Floreada, for her marriage to Orindan Robert Stuart Totten, now serving w/the USNavy in the southland. A family cocktail party recently served to announce the couple's engagement.

LOCAL SWIM CHAMP GROUP "The Aquabears," who brave the cold (Aqua Bares?) at Miramonte Pool 3-4 nights wkly., will hold their dinner banquet at SPENGER'S Restaurant in Berk. on Sun. Mar. 12, parents to be proud paying guests!

Where's The Fire?

The following calls were responded to by the Orinda Fire Department during the last week.

Thursday — 11:57 a.m. Moraga Highway. Car over bank. 5:40 p.m. Charles Hill Road. Investigation. 6:45 p.m. Sanborn Road. Radio fire.

Monday — 5:40 p.m. Camino Sobrante. Leaking water heated.

Tuesday — 3:38 p.m. False alarm.

Wednesday — 1:29 a.m. Highway 24. Washdown from auto accident. 8:40 a.m. Orinda Crossroads. Smoke scare. 4:35 p.m. Charles Hill Road. Grass fire.

Commission Denies Re-Zoning Petition

In a five to two vote, the Contra Costa Planning Commission denied an application of 125 property owners representing 150 acres in Miner Orinda which asked for a reduction of the zoning in their area from 40,000 to 20,000 square feet.

Orinda: America

Mrs. Dochterman's third grade students have writtten some excellent essays on "What America Means to Me." This has been in connection with their study of "The Star Spangled Banner," "America" and "The Pledge of Allegiance." One of the essays is printed here.

"AMERICA means freedom and our flag with seven red, and six white stripes. We are able to go to school to help us learn to be better citizens. In this way we make our America strong.

We are lucky because we can worship God as we want to. We have water to drink, plenty of food to eat and clothes to wear.

WE GET to grow fruits and vegetables and a lot of other sorts of foods. We are able to earn a living by earning money. Most of the money we earn we can keep. Also, we can go out of our house and go where we want to. When the store is open we can go to it when we want to.

WE HAVE good doctors and good nurses. When we get hurt we go to them and they will take care of us. America is a home of the brave and the land of the free. America means a happy life to me." By Colette Kersten.

THE SIX FLAGS which have flown over California have been reproduced by the pupils in Mrs. Davis' fourth grade class. These include the flags of Spain, England, Russia and Mexico in addition to the Bear Flag and the American Flag.

They have learned the interesting story of this period and about the brave people who helped raise these flags over our beautiful state.

THE SPANISH FLAG was made by Edward Mehlhoff, the English flag by Kent Simon, the Russian flag by Stuart Borbridge, Mexican flag by Gay Warfield, Bear flag by Dana Sassone and Bob Sage, and the American flag by Nancy Hutchison and Tom Houser.

Del Rey: Creativeness

Miss Joan Balling's third graders are producing some beautiful thoughts in their creative writing sessions. Last week the class listened to DeBussy's "La Cathedrale Englantie." Then each child attempted to set forth the pictures he had seen as the music held him.

THE ANNUAL yo-yo contest has had "everybody doing it." In the playground championships Jackie Singer earned the girls' championship while Mickey Shepard took the boys' crown. Judy Rolley was a close second in the girls' division, with Virginia Tye third.

Tommy Lasater was second among the boys, with Frank Gimbel and Chris Ostrander tied for third. Jackie repeated her win in the area finals at Pine Grove. Mickey was in the running there down to the very last event, finally finishing third.

Orinda: Baby Chicks

Mrs. Coffey's second grade are the proud "parents" of 17 bantam chicks. They hatched them in an incubator as a part of their science studies. The downy bantams were hatched about 10 days ago, and are now beginning to get their first feathers.

Mrs. Dochtermann's third grade class has been keeping the librarians busy helping them find poetry in the library. So far they have memorized 18 poems. Their favorite poets are Robert Louis Stevenson, Rose Fyleman, Elizabeth Maddox Roberts and Henry W. Longfellow. Their latest poem is "The Children's Hour" by Henry W. Longfellow.

Glorietta: Assembly

On February 24, Glorietta School had an assembly in honor of our flag, "Old Glory." The assembly also honored George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, both born in the month of February.

THE ORCHESTRA played "America" and "Yankee Doodle," and the children sang these two songs. John Clark, our principal, gave a speech on citizenship. He spoke about the three "C's," Courtesy, Consideration and Cooperation.

After the principal's speech, we had a film about the flag The film showed Fort McHenry after the British fired on it in 1814. When the film was over, we sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The assembly was in the auditorium. There were two assemblies. One was at 9:45 a.m. for the morning kindergarten and first, second and third grades. The other was at 1:45 p.m. for the afternoon kindergarten and fourth and fifth grades. By Valerie Cooper, Rodney Jenks, Jeanette Jones and Doug Smith of Miss Edlund's fourth grade.

Del Rey: Poetry

A nippy morning with layers of white on roofs and lawns prompted Mrs. Andrew's second graders to express themselves regarding Jack Frost. Two of the class made their contributions in poetry. They are Roald Lokken and Laurie Nielsen.

JULIE ANDERSON from Mrs. O'Dea's sixth grade was the speaker at the weekly school assembly to pay tribute to our flag. Julie's message:

"The flag to us means more than just a symbol of our country, it is the symbol of courage.

"It was made from the courage of men who fought for freedom. It was developed from battles and blood of the men now dead who fought for independence It is more than just a banner waving in the breeze, it is a symbol of all these things—courage, bravery and independence.

"I found a poem written by Henry Bonnet that shows all this."

SEV SCHNUGG, shown with six of her twelve "stepping stones" may well be Orinda's Mother of the Year. The attractive brunette, envied for her bandbox sparkle, finds time to participate in volunteer work, never "begs off" because of her sizeable brood, was just once forgetful where her family is concerned. The Census lady had to call back at the Sleepy Hollow home for another "nose counting." Sev and her husband, Dr. Frank Schnugg, had left out a few of the children's names, but a quick whistle for roll call, the children lined up and the roster was filled in — complete! Newcomers Club Grows and Grows

A magic show will highlight Orinda Newcomers Club meeting and luncheon Wednesday at the Red Mill. Owner, Jay Bedsworth, will entertain the group with his renowned "bag of tricks."

On April 19, the club will participate in a wine-tasting demonstration in conjunction with their luncheon at the Concord Inn. This program will be presented by Eugene Moresoli of the wine advisory board with the help of Digardi's Winery of Martinez.

Newcomer sections are meeting regularly. The gourmet group is having luncheon at Skipper Kent's in San Francisco today.

The home and garden section will meet at the home of Mrs. M. R. Yost on March 13 at 10:30 a.m. when Mrs. Barbara Maynard of Orinda Furniture and Interiors will show slides demonstrating interior decorating. Bowling, golf, canasta, and bridge are also in full swing.

Orindans Savor Pre-Springtime Sun Splash

Orinda temperatures remained in the sixties this past week, as no rain but considerable sunshine "fell" over the area. Suggestions of rain came from time to time but a general springtime atmosphere prevailed.

It was the type of delicious weather when just before stepping inside the office building one takes a deep and sustaining gulp of blossom-scented air.

Here are the temperatures:

Sleepy Hollow: Incubator

Mrs. Richtinig's first graders are watching their incubator with great interest and anticipation.

Two dozen bantam eggs were placed in it this week. If all goes well, there should be a hatching out the week before spring vacation . . . baby chicks, anyone?

MYSTIC ARABIA was brought to the Sleepy Hollow third grades this week in the person of Mrs. Fred Davies, who had spent 10 years with her husband in Arabia. Mrs. Davies came dressed in the native costume of the "ladies" of Arabia, lovely in its gold embroidery and sweeping graceful folds.

As she talked to the children she showed large photographs and many articles of clothing, brass ware, weapons, jewelry and such. For nearly an hour she held a captivated audience of third grade pupils whom, we imagine, were visualizing themselves in some of the settings so picturesquely described.

Mrs. Nancy Allen, a third grade teacher, was instrumental in making arrangements for this fascinating guest.

ON FEBRUARY 20, 30 ants went to Sleepy Hollow School. Rod Spongberg brought his ant farm, a glass box, to class. Dave Locklin and Rod gave the ants water each day by squeezing a few drops from an eye dropper through an opening at the top of the case.

Every other day they fed the little farmers small grains of wheat It has been interesting for us to watch these pinhead farmers as they engineer roads, hold conferences and even have wrestling matches. It has been said that if ants were as large as men it would take only four of them to lift a locomotive.

Guy Catterton Becomes Captain

Guy B. Catterton, USNR-R, 3 Poppy Lane, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the Naval Air Reserve, a spokesman at Oakland Naval Air Station announced. The new navy captain is the commanding officer of a large weekend warrior unit, Air Wing Staff 87L at NAS Oakland.

A native of Berkeley, Captain Catterton is an attorney in that city and is the son of Mr. E. R. Catterton, Sr., of Berkeley. He attended Oakland and Berkeley schools and graduated from the University of California in 1941. His wife, the former June Lang, graduated from University of California the following year.

AFTER SERVING as a naval aviator and torpedo bombing pilot in the south pacific during World War II, Catterton was released from active duty. Attending Hasting College of Law he received his degree in 1948.

During the Korean conflict he returned to active navy duty at NAS Oakland as the legal officer from 1950 until 1952. He then went into law practice. As a weekend warrior he commanded Naval Air Reserve Anti-submarine Warfare Squadron VS-872 when it was awarded the Noel Davis trophy,

HE IS A partner in the law firm of Nicholas and Catterton, is active in the Berkeley Bar Association, Alameda County Bar Association, Estates Council of the East Bay, is on the board of directors of St. Vincent's Day Home in Oakland and is a member of the advisory council of the Alameda County State College, Hayward.

Pay Income Tax by A Check, Not Cash

Newly Organized 'Friends' Music Group Meets

A newly organized group, the "Friends of the Orchestra," held its first meeting February 27 at Miramonte high school.

According to Mrs. Martin White, of the steering committee, two main objectives of the group are: to achieve an orchestra at Miramonte high school this fall and to give music its rightful place in the basic education of the high school student. In the stress of fulfilling college entrance requirements, this area of cultural development and enrichment should not and need not be neglected.

Other members of the steering committee were introduced: Mesdames Horton Hill, Al S. Koch, Claude Maehler, John Mortarotti and Robert Wale.

The slate of officers for Friends of the Orchestra was presented: Mrs. David Coleman, chairman; Paul Pollaczek, vice-chairman; Mrs. Richard Hillis, secretary; Mrs. N. N. Daniloff, alternate secretary; Mrs. J. H. Stahle, treasurer; Mrs. David Liu, publicity-historian; Mrs. Claude Maehler, alternate publicity-historian.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. R. C. Horne, awards and recognition; Lyman Lorensen, social; Mrs. J. B. Cartwright, telephone.

Faculty consultant Lawrence Anderson, director of music at Miramonte, expressed his interest in the development of an orchestra and stressed that music should not be regarded merely as a "frill," that it has its own vocabulary, rules and regulations just as any other academic subject.

He said that the discipline of musical training can be a valuable part of a student's education.

The music directors of two high school orchestras, John Mortarotti of Oakland Technical High and Robert Lutt of Berkeley High, gave encouragement as well as practical suggestions for the organization of an orchestra.

Mortarotti said that given community support and the cooperation of the school authorities, academic schedules can be arranged to make possible a minimum of conflict between orchestra and the other courses.

In this respect, Miramonte is fortunate in having the full support of James A. Lewis, principal, and the head counselor of Miramonte, Lloyd Hunt, as well as that of Lawrence Anderson, music director, according to a spokesman for the Friends of the Orchestra.

However, more student sign-ups are needed to insure the success of the orchestra project, according to Mrs. David Liu, publicity director of the newly organized group.

Paul Pollaczek said that the San Francisco Symphony Foundation is currently striving to raise funds for the symphony. He invited all interested persons to a meeting at his home Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. Call CL 4-5248 for further information.

KJAZ Owner Wants to Build Radio Tower

An application to establish a radio transmitting tower in Orinda by Patrick Henry will be acted upon after the board of supervisors for the county examine the site for the proposed transmitting tower.

Henry proposes to build a tower approximately 30 feet high on the west side of Lucille Way, 65 feet north of Knickerbocker Lane.

The tower would serve a frequency modulation station transmitting about a 25 mile distance.

Henry is owner and general manager of radio station KJAZ. He lives at 42 Camino Lenada, Orinda.

The board of supervisors will meet and reconsider his request at their next meeting after a field trip to the site.

Seniors Visit Local College

Twenty-six senior students of Miramonte high school visited Armstrong College in Berkeley on February 24.

Mr. Donald Foster, sponsor of the group, accompanied them on the trip as part of the educational program of development of business leaders for the future.

The tour included inspection of Armstrong College and demonstrations of modern business machines.

Dean Jack E. Bedford pointed out some of the career opportunities for future business leaders in America.

Members of the group who visited the college included Dianne Krog, Sharon Read, Nancy Schmidt, Sharron Levy, Lonnette Pugh, Nicki Kalivas, Sharen Lee, Judie Gesinger, Marline Leslie, Michelle Boerdlove, Barbara Smith, Bonny McCready, Karen Fitzgerald, Donna Walker, Jane Danish, Claudia Nielsen, Sharen Neslen, Gail Perkins, Linda Tiefel, Judie Lucas, Joan Barnes, Kay Kielley, Laura Kelley, Geerna Clark, Iris Scott and Janet Lucas.

Orindans Attend State Convention

Elizabeth C. Muller, Peter T. Muller and David Van Hoesen attended the annual state convention of the California Young Republicans in Sacramento last weekend.

More than five hundred Young Republican leaders from all over the state were on hand for the three-day meeting.

Association Plans Annual Meeting, Membership Drive

A general membership session of the Orinda Association has been scheduled for April 24. The annual meeting will be held at the Orinda School at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the membership drive.

Dick Bartle and Charles Dana were appointed to plan the agenda for the meeting, the only general membership meeting the association holds during the year.

Tentative plans for the meeting include a panel discussion serves the community. In addition, possible uses of the 10 acres owned by the association at the northwest corner of the crossroads will be discussed.

In other action at the regular board meeting Monday night, the directors agreed to mail membership solicitation letters to every home in Orinda the first week of April. Mrs. Robert Haslam is chairman of the membership drive.

In former years, the membership letters have been delivered by hand. In an effort to increase the coverage, the directors determined a mail delivery this year would be more effective.

All residents of Orinda are invited to join the association, that serves as Orinda's only self governing body. Through the association committees, matters of community and county importance are studied and action taken when necessary.

School Parking Lot Attendant Receives Threat

Some students at Miramonte High School apparently don't like the way John Guzzo goes about his work as the school parking lot attendant.

In the past few weeks Guzzo's mailbox has been damaged three times and his car rigged with a smoke bomb.

He even received a threatening note stating that if he didn't "slacken off his duties at the parking lot his car would be completely wrecked."

School officials and sheriff deputies are investigating.

'Abolition' Showing Is Next Friday

The controversial movie "Operation Abolition" will be shown and debated at the Diablo Valley Republican Assembly meeting, next Friday, at 8 p.m. at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board Building, 1343 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

The film shows the student riot at the San Francisco hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities last May.

It is accompanied by a commentary which charges that known communists incited the student demonstration into a riot.

An invitation to debate the negative has been extended to Joseph F. Lewis, an opponent of the HCUA and a member of the Santa Clara County Democratic Central Committee, which has gone on record as stating the riots were not communist inspired.

The affirmative will be presented by Diablo Valley Republican director Craig Bull of Orinda.

A question and answer period will follow the debate.

DVRA officials invited persons interested in viewing the film to attend and take part in the discussion.

The first Catholic school in Orinda was dedicated February 25. It is known as the Santa Maria Elementary School.

Bishop Merlin J. Guilfoyle blessed the building where the convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet are teaching.

The school opened in September with the first through fourth grades. A grade will be added each year for the next four years, stated the Rev. David J. Harrington, pastor.

Located on the hill alongside the Santa Maria Church on Santa Maria Way in Orinda Village, the school has eight rooms, constructed of frame and stucco with a tile roof in the Spanish colonial architecture.

Also located on the Santa Maria Way site are the parish hall, rectory and convent.

Two Wives Get 'Adas'

Two Orinda housewives, Mrs. James C. Campbell and Mrs. Millard S. Simon, will be honored as recipients of "Adas" by the Contra Costa Dental Society at its regular meeting scheduled for Tuesday night at the Red Mill in Lafayette, it was announced today by Dr. Bill J. Harris of Walnut Creek, president of the county dental organization.

Dr. Harris explained that "what an Oscar is to Hollywood and an Emmy to television, that's what an Ada—short for Annual Dental Award—is to the Contra Costa Dental Society."

MRS. CAMPBELL and Mrs. Simon were elected from a list of Contra Costa persons and organizations recommended for performance of outstanding community service in the interest of improving dental health during 1960, said Dr. Harris. "We are especially pleased to recognize and honor the county and community leadership roles of Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Simon in the educational campaign leading up to the election on fluoridation in the East Bay Municipal Utility District last June," said Dr. Harris.

THE PROGRAM for the evening, arranged through President-elect and Program Chairman Dr. Louis M. Ellis of Concord and F. A. Mann, San Pablo pharmacist, will be a panel discussion on "Current Relationships of Dentists and Pharmacists."

The panel will include Dr. Don Brodie, director of pharmaceutical services at the University of California Medical Center and Victor Boissere, vice-president of the Alameda-Contra Costa Pharmaceutical Society. Dr. Donald J. Mythen, Richmond, will moderate the discussion.

County Youth To Observe 4-H Week

National 4-H Club Week, March 4 to 11, will be observed by about 1000 youth in Contra Costa County.

The young people, 10 to 21 years old, are among the 2,302,000 4-H'ers of America who belong to some 94,200 clubs in rural, urban, and suburban committees.

California has an enrollment of 35,000.

This year's continuing theme for the Head, Heart, Hands, and Health group is "Learn — Live — Serve Through 4-H."

Among the special 4-H Week activities planned for Concord, March 11, is a livestock exhibit which will be held in the shopping center.

Contra Costa Club members will women in the county who serve as share honors with the 200 men and unpaid volunteer leaders, and guide 4-H work in local communities.

The purposes of 4-H Club Week are to acquaint more young people with opportunities open to them through joining or forming 4-H Clubs, to increase public understanding of 4-H aims and accomplishments, and to express appreciation to the many friends of 4-H who support the "learn by doing" program of character development and good citizenship.

Career Night Supersedes Club

Could There Be a Leak In One of Our Pipes?

What does a glass of water have in common with a vote in Pleasant Hill?

Not much, at first glance, but plenty when you look at a series of events.

The East Bay Municipal Utility District has offered to buy Hayward's water system and then turn around and supply the six to eight million gallons needed to fill the needs of the city's customers.

And they offered Hayward a neat little net profit of $2,396,313 to boot!

Now how about that vote in Pleasant Hill? Recently people of this community went to the polls to organize their own water district because they didn't particularly like the product being offered by California Water District.

WHY DID THEY have to form their own water district? Simply because under no consideration would EBMUD service them.

This is a patently ridiculous situation. Cal Water wanted out anyway, and the people there wanted EBMUD water. No deal.

The Hayward people are being served with excellent water . . . from the City of San Francisco.

AND NOW EBMUD is going into competition with San Francisco, offering to buy out one of its best customers.

And meanwhile, people who would like to have EBMUD water are being turned down.

It affects every one of us, too, because we pay taxes and water bills to EBMUD. And they are offering to spend some $2 million of your money!

It hardly seems sensible for EBMUD to offer to go into competition with an established, practical, good water system when there are so many people in adjacent areas to the present EBMUD system who are literally crying for their water.

SURE, EBMUD will give you a good argument about "eventual service areas" and that Pleasant Hill, or the area beyond Danville is not included, but even that doesn't necessarily make much sense.

And remember, each of us owns a part of EBMUD.

We don't HAVE to agree with their policies.

Maybe Our Zoning Laws Just Don't Mean Anything

A peculiar thing happened out in Kensington, which is in the western part of the county, recently.

A lady bought a small, triangular shaped lot, and applied for a permit to build a house on it.

The permit was denied because of zoning regulations. The lot was too small for a house.

THE OWNER promptly hired an attorney and went to battle. Several thousand dollars (of her money) later, the matter went to court. And the court ruled in her favor.

In essence, the court said that the county cannot use a zoning law to prevent beneficial use of a piece of property. He said the owner had been enjoined from building anything at all on her lot.

This leads to some very interesting speculation. Let's use an example. We own a lot that is nine-tenths of an acre in an area which is zoned half-acre residential. So, we build a house on one corner of the lot.

THEN, LATER, we sell you the remaining four-tenths of an acre. Our house and lot is legal. You have just purchased a sub-standard lot.

So, you apply to the planning commission for a permit to build a house on your sub-standard lot. No dice. Then you take the matter to court, and the above ruling is issued.

In effect, this would mean that zoning laws do not mean a thing, and that you have no guarantee that your area is going to stay the way you thought it would when you purchased your home.

The county has said that it will take the Kensington case through the courts on appeal. This will cost between $2500 and $3500 of the county's money. But we feel that it needs appeal.

Otherwise, what do our zoning laws mean?

And what protection do you have?

Give It Some Thought...

We have had two tragic accidents on our bustling freeway within a very short space of time.

Both accidents left large families without a father.

Nobody is sure of the cause of the two accidents. There could, of course, be a variety of reasons. The State Division of Highways hopped right on the ball and in both cases made an investigation of the signs at the ramps where the automobiles entered the freeway.

In both cases, as you probably know, the automobiles were traveling the wrong way on the freeway.

WE THINK it is a darned good idea for the state to take a careful look at the on and off ramps of the freeway.

In addition, the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation will review the safety of our local freeways and access ramps March 15.

We will look forward to their findings with real interest.

But there is another aspect to the whole matter. It is the driver's responsibility to see that he is where he belongs, and doing what he should be doing.

It can be stated simply, in one sentence:

"THINK WHILE YOU ARE DRIVING!"

No matter how many signs are posted, and how many officers patrol the highways, people will be killed if they do not pay attention to what they are doing.

We have seen people pull up to a red light at an intersection, stop as if it were marked by a stop sign only, and then pull right on through the intersection. Just daydreaming at the wheel.

But that daydream can become a nightmare.

And it could be you.

The Staff Corner

Here Kitty, Kitty

By CAROLE GOOD

This is not particularly a soap box for the cat fancier's guild, but since cats are such dramatic little creatures and their own masters . . . besides it was suggested that this article be about a particular occasion to do with cats. Actually it was said that this item could editorialize out of fierce loyalty).

En garde!

One evening, recently, I "baby sat" for a staff member's two out of four children. The term "baby sat" is purely a misnomer. Actually I policed two cats, a dog and some goldfish with a strainer over their bowl. Obvious conclusion here.

The cats resembled (they were twins) one another. One cat was privileged to be in the house with the dog, who, not incidentally, eats cat food while the cat's back is turned. The other cat is not so privileged to be inside as it eats fish.

However, not being familiar with who was who I invariably tossed the wrong cat out and let the fish gourmet in.

It was a hectic evening.

The youngest child, a girl, consistently glanced at me in a most disarming manner, as though she expected me to keel over any moment. I hope she didn't notice the book I appeared to be reading was upside down. Or perhaps she did notice.

The other youngster, a boy, is a very brave child. He stood between the in-cat and the door and I more than once. Besides, he labored to introduce and teach chess to me and patiently explained at least 15 times that the king could move only one place in any direction. I kept repeating this statement, being a firm believer in repetition inculcates learning. The lad was most sympathetic.

So the evening progressed. Finally the children and the in-cat, who was out, and the out-cat, who was in, were rescued by the parents and the out-cat was thrown out. I understand this family had a bird once.

My parting gesture was to flick a light switch, which hadn't functioned for some time, and behold lux fiat.

Current Footwear Fad Is For Martians & The Mad

By MARIE MONAHAN

LADIES, Rise up & rebel!

The shape of our shoes has gone to, Well, it's got to GO!

We will all end up in wheelchairs. Or without toes. Or worse yet, goodness knows, without any feet at all!

THE people who designed the pointed pump, then put it over on the public, aren't the only ones with pointed heads to match, NATCH!

WE, THE WOMEN, are just as guilty of what's happening to our feet as the Madmen & the Admen who design, manufacture & sell this Martian's marvel.

FOR ONLY a woman from Mars could be expected to wear such a hideous & uncomfortable pairs of shoes, comfortably!

THAT IS, if she has a middle toe & JOINT that's long & fits up into that POINT where NO Toe ought to GO. Without expecting WOE!

At least mine won't—or don't . . . & unless your feet are incomplete or entirely misshapen, neither will yours!

WOMEN are chic without feet narrow & long . . . but women are weak when a new fad comes long.

LIKE MOST everyone else, we succumbed to the new sleek look of pointed toes. Just one pair, said we, proposing to be in style, but we'll hang on to the others with their round natural lines & their full fat heels because you can bet in no time, they'll be back in style.

Well, style proved stronger & women grew weaker!

AND IT'S NO WONDER when you think that all the rest of us is round & curvey from our little round heads to our little high arches & the best of us is all crammed & jammed into being carried around by two feet frozen with numbness, because of sheer dumbness, & being squeezed to death into V-shapel torture-chambers!

NOW BE HONEST! In those pointed misfits, can you gambol across the garden, walk as gracefully as ever? NEVER!

Do you feel free to skip through the store knowing you'll wind up on the floor, taking a spill because your heel caught in the grill? Certainly not!

WHEN you arrive at someone's house, don't you feel like a Dope when you lope into the living room with the Welcome mat still stuck to the bottom of your shoe?

I DO!

AND you certainly aren't fancy-free because tired aching tootsies at the end of cramped-up footsies are like a migraine or a toothache affecting ALL of you!

HAVE you noticed you're not as pleasant & as nice as you used to be?

SAME WITH ME!

Maybe we should revolt & run around barefooted!

GIVE THE SHOE industry a jolt! They might not get wealthier, but WE'D all be healthier!

Ladies, our soles & our souls are suffering!

We are ruining ourselves for the sake of silly fashion. Shoes may be our passion, but our psyches are suffering, our toenails tormented & even our pedicures have loudly lamented!

THE FINAL BLOW (Oh No!) is that even canvas shoes are coming out MORE pointed than ever (NEVER!) & in leopard-print cloth, yet! You wanna bet?

Our local shoe stores feature this freakish footwear, this sneaky sneaker, the newest thing on the market. A MENACE! If you wore them for Tennis, you'd fall flat on your face! If you wore them at all, you'd be a disgrace!

HAND ME down by round ground-slippers!
I've had enough of pointed slippers!

Letters to The Editor

COVENANT

Dear Editor:

Is there no limit to the duplicity that some people will use?

I am referring to the letter on the open covenant in the February 17 issue by name-withheld-by-request. The writer's purpose and aim are transparently clear: The letter is designed to motivate more people to sign the covenant!

By putting the arguments against the covenant in such fatuous, overdrawn, self-centered sounding terms, the unwary reader is patently unable to side with the writer. He is thus driven into the arms of the Fair Play group.

The strategy of Name-withheld is obvious to anyone who has familiarized himself with certain other, more infamous approaches. (See, for example, Herbert Feis' Chinese and Moscow Communists.) The statement, " . . . the only real safeguard is an economic one . . ." fits the pattern of dialectical materialism all too neatly.

Again, the gratuitous disidentification of himself from the "liberals" is a red herring with an appropriately fishy smell. Note, too, the free use of innuendo.

Finally, the coup de grace: The attack on the legal machinery of the democratic process in the name of democracy!

No, Mr. Anonymous, with your "by gollies," we'll not be taken in by you.

MOVIES

Dear Editor:

We have been living in Oroville for the past 18 months and have been subscribing to The Sun.

I notice that occasionally you devote some space in your paper to movie classifications.

I've been interested and therefore would like to know:

Do you donate this service to the community?

Do several groups pay for this publication?

If so, approximately how much money is involved?

How often do you publish the classification?

A representative of our local editor informed our group, mothers concerned about the type of motion pictures shown to our youngsters, that a column of movie classification costs $30 to $50 to print. We took a copy of The Sun to show them what we wanted. The first article in the March issue of Reader's Digest explains something of what is taking place in our movie houses today all over the nation.

MRS. M. DAMBACHER

(Ed. Note: The Sun donates the space to the community. There is no cost to any community agency or group. The movie ratings which are published by the ogranization you name, are published at present once a month in The Sun. Plans are underway to repeat a brief recommendation or comment when any of the pictures reviewed are appearing at a local theater.)

MOVIES

Dear Editor:

You are to be commended on your fine column "Perhaps This Will Help You Select Good Movies." As a national organization, we have been deeply interested in the movies shown to our children.

At our general meeting the members of our council, which represent 16 school P-TAs, endorsed your printing the ratings of the Film Estimate Board List of National Organizations.

Our council thanks you again for your column and urges you to please continue this service. We, as parents, are vitally interested in the movies our children attend.

Here's More Statement On Housing Covenant

eye on most everything. Whence came this monstrous upheaval? It all arose out of a little card on which we were asked to take a stand on a proposed Open Housing Covenant.

Based upon the high hopes of the churches and groups which backed the proposal, for an affirmative statement by a majority of the residents in this area, it would seem that the reaction to date indicates failure of the proposal.

RATHER THAN developing "Civic Unity", the move seems to have resulted in almost complete "Civic Disunity". The crest of the tide having now passed, is it not possible for us to now make a calm appraisal of what was involved?

First of all, it should be mentioned that the writer, though not a member of an organization backing the proposal other than his church, did sign the covenant and encouraged his wife to work toward obtaining other signatures. Now why did my wife and I back the proposal?

Are we Communists? Of course not. The mere concept of an all powerful state in which people are herded like sheep at the will of a few repulses us. Do we want our children to marry negroes, with all of the problems which their children of mixed blood would face in present day society? Certainly not.

DO WE WANT immoral or unclean neighbors? Do we want the value of our largest asset, our home, to be depreciated? Do we want to insist that persons of undesirable character be joined in social gatherings of our friends? The answer to these questions is obvious.

Did we consider whether the covenant was a proper method, and did we ask ourselves—"why now?" You bet we did, and we are still not certain about those things. But we also considered some other things such as the following:

Nearly all unbiased studies of the effects of integration on housing values show two things, namely: that devaluation does occur on the perimeters of all colored areas which are expanding, due to the fact that the standards of the colored race as a whole seem to be lower, and the perimeter assumes the characteristics of that standard.

However, when individual colored families of high personal standards move into an area which is predominantly now non-colored, the effect on property values is minimal unless the white residents panic and place a number of homes on the market at one time. Furthermore, studies show that there is such a small percentage of colored families which have sufficient funds to buy a home in a better district, the impact on an area such as ours would be negligible. But admittedly those things are arguable, and they were not the deciding factors with us. What we did feel to be imporant lies much deeper.

THE YELLOW, brown and black races make up the overwhelming majority of the human beings on this earth. Their places of national origin have resources which remain substantially untapped, whereas the natural resources of North America and Europe are being rapidly dissipated. Our high standard of living is becoming more and more dependent upon our advantages in education, government organization, mechanization and productive know how.

But these advantages are beginning to disappear rapidly. The "colored" races are now on the march whether we wish to believe it or not. And what will the situation be when they catch up to us in these things, if they have also been taught by us tha men are not equal and that a dominant race has an inherent right to deny equality to a minority group.

Something to think about, isn't it?

LOOK AT THE international situation. The Communist world and the free world, in their struggle for balance or supremacy, are being forced to vie for the support of the new uncommitted nations. And who are they? They are the places of national origin of the minority groups in this country. These nations say to us: "Do you want our friendship?" "Do you want us to follow your way of life?" "Do we really have much in common with you?"

"If we do, what about the people of our stock in your deep south—and how much real friendship is there for our people in your more desirable places to live, such as Orinda. Yes, how much friendship even for the more highly educated and highly moral members of our race?"

"Do the new nations also say: "You tell us of your Bill of Rights, and of Jefferson, Lincoln and many other great Americans who have contributed to your so-called heritage of free and equal people and ask us to follow in their footsteps—have you?" "You preach to us of your God whom you describe as a father under whom all men are brothers, yet an overwhelming majority of you ridicule your priests, ministers and rabbis when they tell you that you should allow members of our race even to live near you."

"And those of you who profess to be Christians and profess to be striving to emulate your Christ—Are you even trying to show toward our people the attitude which you know your Christ would take if he were present in person today?"

Finally, these new nations say to us: "The Communists, in asking for our friendship, tell us that under Communism all men are treated equally. We suspect their sincerity and are not sure that we want their kind of equality. But you have proven your insincerity and obviously don't believe in equality, so where can we turn for friendship?"

THESE ARE THE things which have run through the minds of my wife and I. We do not believe that one's loyalty to his country should be questioned by his neighbors because he accepts more literally than they the great principles upon which his country and his church were founded.

We recognize fully that no one likes to have to surrender the comfortable feeling of living in a community where one does not have to face the aches and pains which would could with the asimilation of persons who are "not his kind."

We also realize that many people would like to live in a nation which could isolate itself from the uncomfortable problem of getting along with the rest of the world. It is or feeling, however, hat the time has already arrived when our country can no longer isolate itself, and that it is being badly handicapped because it did not see the problems coming and prepare for it.

We are convinced that the time will soon arrive when we can no longer isolate ourselves in our community, and that we would do well to start facing the problem now in a Christian and American way, rather than have it solved for us later, perhaps by bloodshed.

WE KNOW OF no great civilization in history which fell because it gave too much care to the problems of the "little man," and because it took action as problems arose rather than waiting to be overwhelmed by them.

On the contrary, most great civilizations have fallen because the dominant elements of that civilization had such a desire to maintain their physical and emotional status quo, that they did not see he handwriting on the wall foretelling inevitable changes.

Wasn't this just the attitude of the Romans as the pressure of the barbarians started to increase? Wasn't it the attitude of the pre-communist nobility in Russia, and also the attitude of the ruling families in pre-Communist China?

WE WONDER IF in some future year, a historian of perhaps colored skin will write: "Here was a white civilization which rose to great heights, but which, as with all prior great civilizations, thought that its comfort was fixed for all time and all that had to be done was to look down on the unrest below."

These are our thoughts, but we readily concede that we may be impractical or wrong even in principle. If we are, we hope that you can show us the falacies in the manner in which friends should council with friends.

But please, show us your thoughts of conscience—not histronics and accusations.

Daze at Gold Hits Jackpot

By MARIE MONAHAN

LAS VEGAS, look out! The very same local ladies who give of their time and energies to motherhood and a myriad of community causes proved keen competition last weekend for the star chorines of the glitter circuit.

The high-kicking members of the Oakland Junior League, as well as their helpmate husbands, hit the giant jackpot with the gilt-edged production of "Les Girls In Las Vegas" stage show that was the bright light of the "DAZE OF GOLD" held last Friday at the Claremont Hotel.

TRAFFIC WAS teeming as early as seven at the Berkeley hotel for the annual benefit bash that is a bonanza to the League's community cashbox. Over a thousand guests thronged to a gala affair and the first surprise of the evening was just to the left of the hotel's porte cochere. The usual gift shop salon was gone and in its place a typical Vegas watering spa, "The Junior League First Chance Saloon" complete with bartenders in bowler hats, checkered vests and waxed moustaches.

EARLY ARRIVALS . . . Cynthia (Mrs. Richmond) Stampley shedding a mink wrap to show off a white grecian-styled chiffon, she and Betty (Mrs. George Hall) having left the Harrison Beardsley's cocktail party in Sleepy Hollow early for a session with the makeup mirror before their evening modeling stint in the style show. Cynthia's husband, Richmond, jetting in from New York just minutes before the big evening.

LATER ARRIVALS from the Beardsleys' gathering included the Thomas Culbertsons, Merlon and Tom Howard, the Dave Halls, Clarence Woodards and the Stampleys' guests, Twink and Don Ellis, all of Orinda.

COUNTRY HOSTESS Marian (Mrs. Jack) Eyman dispensing dinner ducts . . . Greetings for past league prexy Mary Alice Townsend, she and husband Charles on from cocktails at the John Coopers in Berkeley. Tall Nancy Longacre of Orinda passing out the pink slim-jim programs for the fashion show.

Paul Mouser heading through the lobby with clothes hangers and pressed costumes slung over his shoulder. He and Nancy among the localities contributing their talents to the stage show ranks produced and directed by the Jerome Cargill Productions of New York.

JOHN AND Louise Clark introducing their Lafayette neighbors Gus and Beverly Chavalas, who were congratulated on their expected family addition. The foursome among those arriving from early libations at the Lafayette home of Jody and Bill Allen, who entertained for the Ed Clarks, Harold Keenans of Orinda, the Robert Hildreths, Richard Holidays of Lafayette.

LOUISE CLARK carrying a flashbulb camera, later arranging for a group pix of localities in front of the Contra Costa Volunteer Bureau display booth in the lobby, the bureau being one of the big beneficiaries of the evening's "take."

The surprise of decorations in every corner of the hotel. The mammoth dice, CanCan chorine cardboard cutouts, roulette wheels, the creative coup of Mrs. Dana (Fran) Leavitt of Orinda. . . . A further Casino touch at the supper table where gold coins and high cards were strewn casually for centerpiece effect.

A FULL HOUSE . . . A startling but soignee silver-spray hairdo for redhaired Emmarie Reid, who later did a change into costume for a revue routine by the "sustaining members" . . . She and adman-husband Charlie accompanied by lovely daughter Susan, who chose a full-skirted black organza piped in white for the festive affair.

Ann Ward arriving with Dick, she wearing a knockout costume suit of turquoise silk brocade, the coat yoke outlined in mink . . . Two tall twosomes were the Fenn Wilsons (his dinner jacket in bold red plad) and the Bill Christiansens, all of Orinda. A spray of white orchids pinned to Mary Christiansen's green satin dress.

ARRIVING FROM an early conclave at the Alamo home of George and Sally Peterson were the J. Allen Madisons of Walnut Creek, the William Boyds of Alamo, the Ralph Grahams of Moraga and the Lloyd Brathoffs of Danville . . . Dr. Ginnie Cuenin and her medic husband Bob with their Danville guests, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Priewe.

In the foyer, Ann Grant with husband Bob, her shirred and draped chiffon of a soft pistachio-green shade . . . Bill and Dee Seifert surrounded, she a standout in a black sheath topped by a custom-collar of Pagliacci-pleated ruffles . . . the Bill Robinsons.

SIS and Tom Curtis of Orinda chatting with Jerry Breuner, who played a "bookie" for a lead part in the stage show . . . A blue satin bow SO BIG fronting the frock of delft blue lace on Jan Angell, who had the sizeable task of serving as ticket chairman. Banker Ron Partridge sporting a "banker's vest" with his tux.

Two Leaguers completely ensconced inside "Lucky 7" and "Lucky 11" dice cubicles (except for their black mesh-stockinged gams) served to announce the start of the "VACATION IN VEGAS" style showing of Joseph Magnin holiday modes.

THE RED CARPET rolled out for fashion models Orindan Patsy Ruth (Mrs. Gordon) French, who wore a headturning bone white So'Wester straw with a stunning linen ensemble . . . Blonde Sally (Mrs. George) Peterson of Danville, a knockout in no end of elegant French Import costumes.

LONG-STEMMED POSES for tall Cynthia Stampley, whose outstanding number was a very short-short silk chiffon in light to bright coral tones . . . Caroline (Mrs. Harold) Havre, rating wild applause in a shocking pink silk coat. Sally Peterson, the 40th and final model, in voluminous folds of lavender chiffon worn with a matching stole.

ON WITH THE SHOW following dinner, dancing to Ray Hackett's orchestra and the hotel's famous Dancing Waters display in the Garden Room. The Bruce Howards, the Heber Smiths of Orinda going down the buffet line.

Robin Duffy glimpsed on the dance floor in a sleek slim-strapped red sheath. The Spencer Kendalls finishing their coffee to head for the first show line-up with Diablo friends, the Alfred Sperrys . . . Bill and Nancy Jeffries of Walnut Creek, Jean and Lee Kendall of Lafayette, Margaret Gompertz, the George Barabaras, Bill Diffenbaughs more localities glimpsed in the show crowd.

Jeanne Ley of Lafayette wearing an off-white deep-hemmed organza shirtwaist, John and JoAnn Hansen hying to the dressing rooms to ready for their stage routines.

ON STAGE . . . Alice (Mrs. Robert) von Der Lieth of Lafayette playing the part of a League lady in the comic story plot . . . Orindan Holly (Mrs. Thomas) Fitch playing a prissy part to the hilt . . . Nancy Mouser losing a shoe during the Indian dance.

THE DESERT resort's Silver Slipper, Thunderbird, Dunes, Sands and Flamingo all represented in various stage numbers. Clever commercials for the "Angels" of the show with Hills Bros. coffee going Trinidad, tremendous burlap coffee bean bags atop of the shoulders of a calypso-chorus. Trader Vic's, Rhodes, Greyhound, Joseph Magnin and A Generous Friend completing the sponsors.

As the first-shot SRO crowd filed out of the Gold Room performance, those holding late show tickets were lined up the length of the lobby, proving once more that the Oakland Junior League has a winner in its annual benefit that returns the shekels back to the community through educational, cultural and civic works, more than $165,000 over the years.

Judge Awards Mdel-Painter Divorce Decree

An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted to Mrs. Paule Fleming of Lafayette from Joseph R. Fleming on the grounds of cruelty by Superior Judge Martin E. Rothenberg.

Mrs. Fleming, a painter and model, said that her husband poured beer on her while she slept in their apartment at 1943 Stuart Street, snipped off her wedding ring with pliers, tried to slam a piano lid on her fingers and pulled out locks of her hair while trying to force a 50 cent piece down her throat.

Judge Rothenberg awarded $100 monthly alimony and support for the couple's four year old son. Custody of the child was given to his maternal grandparents.

Fleming contested the divorce.

Seat Belts Are Life Savers

"An immense amount of scientific research proves that the automotive seat belt is the most effective single item of protective equipment available to reduce the toll of traffic injuries and deaths."

The National Safety Council, the American Medical Association and the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare join in this endorsement of the belt.

In any collision, an automobile is stopped suddenly but the people inside, unless restrained in some way, keep going—smashing into some part of the interior, or, worse, being thrown out. The risk of serious injury or death is five times greater for the person who is ejected than for the person who stays inside a car in an accident.

None of the 442 motorists killed last Fourth of July wore belts.

Telephone numbers of the future will be introduced on a limited scale in five Bay Area Communities later this year.

Pacific Telephone said that about 15,000 customers in Lafayette, Berkeley, San Jose, San Rafael and Los Altos will be the first locally to get All-Number Calling.

The new system, nicknamed ANC, is already in use by two and one fourth million people in some 350 communities throughout the nation, including such larger cities as Chicago, Omaha and Atlanta.

IN NORTHERN California, telephone customers in a number of communities including Paso Robles, Grass Valley, Nevada City, Yountville and King City have had ANC for some months.

ANC, as the name implies, simply substitutes numerals for alphabetical prefixes.

Pacific Telephone said the switch to ANC for Lafayette has been tentatively scheduled for September. AT 3 and AT 4 will change to 283 and 284 respectively.

Sixty-Five Students Dismissed at DVC

Sixty-five students at Diablo Valley College were dismissed at the end of the last semester.

The students did not achieve a 1.5 grade point average during their probationary period.

Each of the dismissed students has received a letter advising them of their status.

The Fishing Is Improving; Pulp Mill Brings Protest

By LARRY JACKSON

Fishing along our Contra Costa County shoreline is greatly on the improve, not only in the fish "takes," but the numbers of fishermen.

The bright sunny weather of the past week certainly woke up the anglers.

Our Monday "looksee" at the records of Dowrelios showed the week days with an average of seven limits per day while Saturday increased to 20 limits and in spite of the wind on Sunday the limit count jumed to 24. This is a fine improvement over the past few weeks of hit and miss fishing. At this spot the top fish weighed out at 18 pounds with the remainder running from eight pounds up.

All nice keepers and hapyy days.

THE DOWRELIO No. 5 docked with a light load of seven anglers, but all had their legal limits and according to Phil Nerton, Eff N' Gee overseer of the takes, the limits have been coming in with hopeful signs of a fine run, with the fishermen registering delight.

Looks like everything is back in high gear again, fellows.

The top fish at Whites Fishing Resort was decked by Sing Quan, Oakland, a real wharf addict who fishes this spot on his day off work. The beauty went 13½ pounds, very sizable for a pier fish. Wednesday of the week registered three in the 6-8 pound class with Sunday making it rough in the wind, showed a 11½ pounder from a skiff and a six pounder from the wharf.

The flounder are still around in large numbers and are in the higher weight brackets.

The stripers have passed up the bull head bait during the past week and are going for the frozen sardine in a big way.

Incidentally, Dal Hering is now stocking the new pack frozen sardine and has them on sale at all times. No need to stop off and get your bait elsewhere.

Dal is also putting his fleet of skiffs in tip top shape for the spring and summer fishermen and the whole layout has a bright and shiny appearance.

McAVOYS Harbor is still the hot spot for the private boat owners and the fish coming in at this spot are setting records all the time. Top striper of the week was registered at the bait and tackle stand in the Schenley Derby by Robert J. Olbera, Concord at 32½ pounds and certainly rates an award in this weekly contest.

Another Concordian, Ray Spencer, weighed in another sturgeon from his favorite fishing hole, Suisun breakthrough, measuring out 67 inches and rattling the scales at 68 pounds.

This is the fourth good sized sturgeon Ray has taken this season with his top fish holding the season record to date of 123 pounds.

The Concord boating fraternity at this popular harbor are really hitting the fish in goodly numbers.

Eight year old Barbara Sims, Concord, went out with her Dad, who threatened to throw her overboard "iffen" she didn't come up with a fish—you guessed right . . . young Barbs out fished Dad with a 14 pounder while the best Dad could show was two in the 6-8 pound class.

BOTH WERE happy as they docked their boat and headed for home.

John Vasta, also of Concord, limited out with fish going to 12 pounds, while Donna Stevenson berthed her craft with a grand sturgeon hitting the weight rack at 60 pounds and a length of 62 inches.

Vince Bruno, Pittsburger, was the hard luck guy of the week—he had a lunker sturgeon on that broke water on him and attracted several of his nearby boating friends. They egged him into the fight, but after an hour struggle and just as he was surfacing he rolled and cut himself free.

Vince was completely "bushed" but happy and his boating friends offered their sympathy or jibes.

The road out to the shoreline fishing spots is now dry and the fishermen are driving out from the harbor and returning with excellent catches of 6-8 pound stripers, flounder and plenty of cats.

All sloughs are full of cats as well, which spells good news for these addicts.

Late Monday afternoon we noticed several flocks of birds working the water along the Pittsburg flats, signifying that there is a good supply of bait in this area and should produce fine fishing now with the warmer weather and the water clearing fast.

THE IKE Walton League Club held their first meeting in their new quarters in the P.G.&E. building last 23rd before a capacity crowd.

Prexy Paul Johanson called the meeting to order with 35-40 sportsmen on hand.

Guest speakers for the evening, Clarence Wilson, ex-prexy of the Associated Sportsmen and a member of the Wildlife Legislative Council, and Bob Jones, Fisheries Research Committee of the Eff N' Gee.

Wilson told of efforts to open local inland waters for fishing while Jones gave information of the type of fish available in the areas.

But more about his in the future when plans have shaped and action contemplated will start.

Several members of the C.C.C. Parks and Recreation Department were on hand and proved very interested listeners.

THE BIG hassle of the evening was the subject of river pollution up stream at the proposed Kimberly Clark pulp mills.

This is going to be a real battle, fellows, and the full support of all sportsmen MUST be applied as pressure is being set up in So-Cal to fight against legislation for this pollution control.

We will have more on this at a later date as we are attending a special meeting to help formulate plans to prevent pollution in the Sacramento.

If this K.C. group is allowed to run things as they see fit, we will not only come up with more stream pollution, a health problem, as well as have the spawning beds of all our river fish ruined.

We are keeping our eyes peeled and our ear glued to the phone for all "big official" gimmicks and when we have the true low-down on this vital issue we, with the help of this paper, will come out with the facts.

They are rough men, and, the organizations in the South are being set to hurt and not help us in our fight to keep our waters clean.

The public relations groups in the K. C. are putting out a bunch of "foul balls" so don't you believe a word of rumor until the truth is shown.

This is a serious threat to many of our local interests.

The Ski Line

Some Ideas by a Dreamer; Kids Have a Big Weekend

BY HEC HANCOCK

Somehow or other we all seem to have a great faculty for being able to tell other people how to run things.

Breathes there a soul in this fair land that isn't capable of being an economic expert, a political strategist, or a coaching genius?

I'd be willing to wager a nickel, that if secret desire of most average American males could be determined, the great majority would be revealed at last as the frustrated coaches they are.

Since this is the age of conformity, I will willingly confess, I too have allusions of grandeur.

Boy, could I change things in the ski world! Let me tell you how I'd run things.

FIRST of all, I'd outlaw knickers and stockings for all female skiers.

This combination makes even the fairest flower look like a junior Leo Nomellini.

Stretchies would rule supreme.

The new motto "Stretchies or Nothing".

Next, I'd install a system whereby offending schuss boomers, who consistently endanger others on the slopes would be issued tickets just as highway violators are.

Speaking of the highway, I'd personally shake the hand of every highway patrol officer in the mountains for the excellent job they consistently do.

For the Ski Patrol, who also do a great job, I'd buy new bright quilted parkas to replace those drab rust colored ones they have been forced to wear these many years.

USING the facilities already available at Squaw Valley, I'd hold a miniature winter Olympic games every year.

Call them the California Games, and invite the best in the world to come and compete.

For just a few nickels we could buy millions in good will.

For the feature race, I'd call the downhill, the Dick Buek Memorial Cup race, in honor of the finest skier developed in California.

Another must would be the creation of more lodges and restaurants with real atmosphere and character.

There would have to be at least one decorated in a Tyrolean motif, featuring authentic German food, and large beer steins.

Naturally, there would be polka music, yodeling and laughter.

Most important, I'd see that steps were taken to positively insure a six foot snow pack from December 1 to May 15. Lean, dry years such as we have experienced for lo these many years, would be strictly a thing of the past.

THE FAIRVIEW Intermediate School in Lafayette made a highly enjoyable and successful trip to Squaw Valley over the weekend.

Nearly 60 students made the trip, and almost all easily learned the basics of skiing and by mid afternoon were zooming up and down the slopes like old pros.

Ann Shirley, Pattie Low, Nancy Brown, Alexa Schindler, Brooks Boyer, and Margaret Best all looked like accomplished skiers by the time they boarded the bus for the homeward trek.

Margaret Stacy, after a rather dismal start, stuck with it, and before the day was over, had ridden the rope tow.

Alan and David Scharlack gave promise of developing into advanced skiers in the near future.

MAKING the trip to Squaw from Walnut Creek, were Linda Peterson, Gail Hopkins, JoAnn Hamilton, and Rich Stephenson.

Our nomination as a future Olympic skier — Bobby Alamano of Walnut Creek!

Bobby on his first day on skis had the time of his life, and gave every impression of having been born to wear the slippery boards.

DVC Splits Home Games

The Diablo Valley College cagers split two home games last weekend.

The Vikings used stalling tactics to defeat second place Monterey, 32-29, Saturday night after losing to Hartnell in overtime, 50-48, on Friday night.

The Viks are now 5-7 in Coast Conference play.

Against Hartnell, the Vikings jumped out in front early and led 21-10 at the half as the visitors offense was completely ineffective.

DVC fell apart in the second half and with a minute to go trailed the Salinas team, 48-44. The Viks went without a field goal for the first five minutes of the half as Hartnell took the lead.

George Smyle sank a shot to make the score, 48-46, and Don Montgomery's shot at the buzzer sent the contest into overtime.

Buzz Green made the only basket of the extra session and the Panthers held on for their sixth conference win. They have five losses.

Ranie Smith paced the home squad with 13 points.

Against Monterey, the Vikings jumped off to an early lead and were content playing a ball control type of game.

Spring Sports In Debut

Spring sports open on a competitive basis this weekend in the Foothill League.

It looks to be a real race in each of the sports involved which means baseball, golf, track and swimming taking them in alphabetical order.

Spring as far as sports is concerned is the most active season of the year when it comes to variety of activities and the number of participants.

The baseball race in the Foothill League looks to be one of the best, with five of the six clubs all rated as contenders.

PITCHING looks to be on a high level and as always that's a big part of any winning team in the diamond game.

Alhambra, a new comer to the circuit, has had problems hitting the win column in football and basketball but in baseball with a veteran squad on hand, plus a top crew in the pitching department, are rated by many as the team to beat.

The pitchers, all southpaws, are Bud Nelson, Hank Barlettani, Doug Walters and Jim Hammett.

The team also has a top catcher in Tom Quontamsatteo who was a leading hitter last year and capable of getting the wood on the ball for the long hits.

The team has a new coach in Vince Custodio and as things look he will definitely have a pennant contender if not a winner in his first year at the helm.

SAN RAMON High came on strong at the end of last year and according to Coach Mike O'Gorman could well keep on going as they figure to have their best year ever.

Don Collar who was a good thrower as a sophomore last year looks bigger and stronger than ever and could spell trouble for the opposition.

K. C. Evans of football and basketball fame will be back for more mound duty.

The team, loaded with veterans, has a standout in Roger Ide at second and to date he has been hitting the horsehide with plenty of authority in practice sessions.

Las Lomas lost a good number of players via graduation but still has enough left to be well up in contention. Catcher Harold Stephenson and pitcher Bill Renny could prove to be one of if not the best batters in the league.

THE KNIGHTS have had a good turnout and with a number of players up from their championship junior varsity could be capable of going all the way.

Coach Duane Louis plans plenty of experimenting in early practice games before coming up with his starters.

Miramonte has a host of veterans plus some outstanding sophomores and Coach Dan Foster is optimistic particularly if he gets some help with a good second thrower to go with his ace right hander Jim Tonascia.

Bub Welch, Randy Thaman, Bill Kent and Dick Bowne are all likely prospects.

Bill Hilger and Glenn Tobias give the Mats plenty of quality plus depth in the all important catching department.

The Matadors open play with Encinal this afternoon at the Orinda diamond in a 3:30 p.m. game.

ACALANES lost its whole first infield via graduation and have plenty of rebuilding to do.

Coach Erwin Mattson has been checking out 50 candidates the past two weeks in an attempt to come up with a workable unit.

The Dons strength lies in the pitching department with Denny Toll and Tom Strain a pair of outstanding senior throwers on hand. The Dons also have a good junior moundsman in Brian Cullen.

Catching poses a problem with Lou Corso the all league receiver in 1959 and 1960 graduated.

At present either Stew Fox or Dave de Varona look to be the best prospects to take over.

How well they succeed will depend a good deal on how far the Dons go.

PIEDMONT, the sixth team in the league last year, figure to end in the cellar largely due to the fact that they have no diamond of their own to practice or play on.

They must play all games on the road along with the fact they have no junior varsity from which to draw.

They still are capable of pulling an upset or two and could well decide who wins the league by whom they beat.

GOLF is an unknown quantity at this point and could well be an even-steven race all around.

Swimming looks to be in the bag for Las Lomas again on the varsity level with Acalanes possibly able to upset them in the Bee division.

Track has the largest turnout of all and early spring weather is bringing them into shape fast.

The league title again looks to be a race between Acalanes and Piedmont.

Look for a complete roundup on track in the next week's Sun.

Las Lomas Wins Foothill Title

It's League's First Real Champion in Three Years

By ERWIN MATTSON

The Las Lomas Knights wrapped up the Foothill League basketball title last Friday night when they defeated Acalanes 46-39 and then put on the finishing touch by downing lowly San Ramon in the windup game Tuesday 62-48 while clearing the bench.

The next play for the Knights will be in the Tracy Tournament which gets under way this weekend with eight schools taking part.

Tracy, Ceres, Modesto, Amador, McClatchy, Alonzo Stagg and Elk Grove are the other schools in the tourney.

The Knights are the defending champions in the tournament.

This year is the first time in three years that there has been an outright cage champion in the Foothill loop.

Last season Las Lomas and Acalanes tied the top spot.

TWO YEARS ago the Knights again were on top of the league, but had to share it with Acalanes again and Miramonte.

In Tuesday's game with San Ramon the Knights posted what proved to be a lucky "13" in the first quarter, then 16, 13 and 20 in that order while San Ramon had 9, 10, 13 and 16.

Rene Brandol, the Knights' classy guard, hit for 20 points, while teammate Pick Scott connected for 12.

Jim Howell topped the invaders with 14 and K. C. Evans had 10.

THE KNIGHTS controlled the boards once again as they outrebounded San Ramon 25-11 while shooting for a good 48 per cent from the floor.

They hit on 26 of 54 shots while San Ramon had a good 40 per cent with 14 for 35.

In other league games Acalanes played a good all-around game to trim the Alhambra Bulldogs, 53-39.

FINAL FOOTHILL STANDINGS

	W	L	PS	PA
Las Lomas	13	2	797	610
Miramonte	10	5	724	631
Acalanes	10	5	707	668
Piedmont	8	7	791	767
Alhambra	3	12	696	872
San Ramon	1	14	701	867

It was an even-steven first quarter with a 10-10 count. Acalanes took a 24-22 halftime lead and outscored the home club 14-6 in the third quarter and 15-11 in the final period of play.

Tom Strain with 12 and John Jones with 11 paced the Dons, while Dennis Watson had 10 points for the Bulldogs.

In the other league games Miramonte staged a second half comeback to down Piedmont, 60-52.

After a first quarter 14-14 deadlock, Piedmont came on strong to outscore the Mats, 17-8, and go ahead, 31-22, at the intermission.

PACED BY Jack Gilbert, the Matadors outscored the Clan, 17-9, in the third quarter and 21-12 in the final stanza to wrap up their 10th win of the campaign and insure a second-place tie with Acalanes.

Gilbert, the Foothill League's leading scorer, finished with 23 points. Bob Welch and Mike McQuaid each had 10 points for the winners.

Rick Prestwood paced Piedmont with 15 points. Bill Clayton had 12.

Last Friday's games found Las Lomas trimming Acalanes, 46-39, to cinch the league title.

Las Lomas took a 13-6 first-quarter lead for a seven-point bulge and as things turned out seven points was the final difference as both clubs had 14 points in the second quarter, while Las Lomas outscored the Dons 10-8 in the third quarter and Acalanes in turn came back to top the Knights 11-9 in the final canto.

BUB NICHOLS and Rene Brandol with 16 points apiece topped the scoring, while Tom Strain had 14 for Acalanes.

In the game between Miramonte and Alhambra the Mats won, 52-48, with the big gun being center Jack Gilbert, who scored 19 points even with Alhambra "two timing" him most of the game.

The Bulldogs kept it close all the way, leading 12-11 at the quarter, only to have the Orinda five go ahead 30-23 at the half.

Miramonte picked up 13 points in the third quarter to Alhambra's 12.

Alhambra closed fast to outscore Miramonte 13-9 in the closing eight minutes of play.

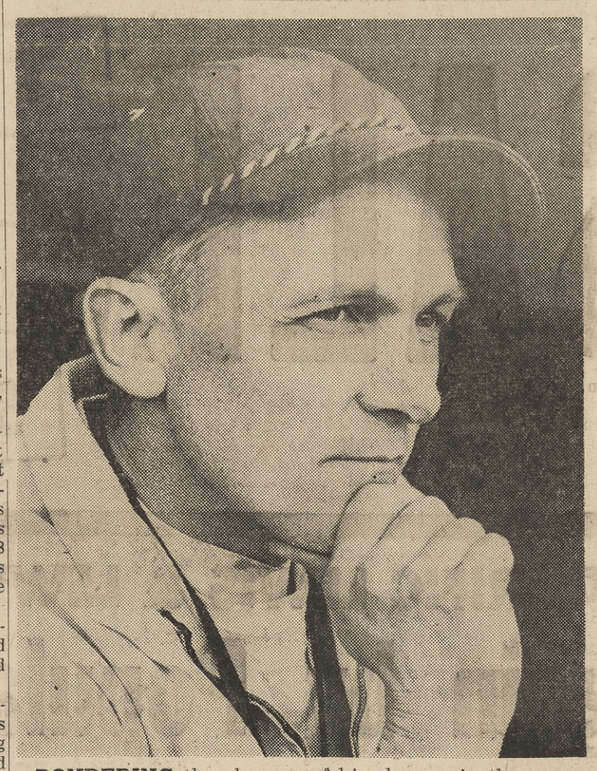
BOB WELCH had 14 points for Miramonte and Bill Hudson had 13.

Alhambra's tops were Tom Quontamatteo with 14, Dennis Watson with 11 and Jim Hammett with 10.

In the other league games Piedmont rolled over San Ramon, 63-40, after leading 30-23 at the half.

Piedmont's Rick Prestwood had a game total of 17 points, while teammate Bob Foskett had 14, as did San Ramon's K. C. Evans.

Jim Howell had 13 for the Wolves.



PONDERING the chances of his charges in the coming spring baseball season is assistant coach Bob Stevens of Acalanes High School. Here he looks over eager hopefuls trying out for the team during a practice session at the school field.

Local Junior Hockey Stars Tie Stockton

The Stockton All Stars scored a goal in the final seconds to pull out a 2-2 tie with the Walnut Creek All Star team in a Junior Hockey game Sunday night in Walnut Creek.

Stockton jumped out in front with a first period goal by Mike Carlblom, but Walnut Creek tied the score and went ahead in the third period.

Bob Yunk scored the first goal for the locals on a solo effort. Kent Cronin did the same thing a few minutes later to put Walnut Creek out in front for the first time.

'B' Basketball Crown to Mats

After losing their opening game of the season the Miramonte High School Bee team finished with nine straight wins to cop the Foothill basketball title.

Las Lomas, the only team to defeat the Mats, finished second with a 7-3 record. Acalanes was third with a 6-4 mark.

The Knights won the first game of the season, 34-24, but were never in the contest the second time around. The Matadors won the rematch, 38-18 on their home floor.

Final Foothill League Standings (Bee Teams)

Miramonte	9	1
Las Lomas	7	3
Acalanes	6	4
Alhambra	4	6
Piedmont	3	7
San Ramon	1	9

Acalanes gave the Mats their toughest game before bowing in overtime, 36-35, on the Dons home floor.

Forward Bruce Nickerson was Coach Frank Scott's outstanding player and leading scorer with 133 points.

He collected an even 50 field goals in the 10 game season.

Center Bill Smith was the team's second leading scorer with 51 points. He was closely followed by Rod Robinson with 50 points.

Guards Jim Lewis and Bob Williams had 39 and 37 points respectively.

Pleasant Hill Wins NorCal Wrestling Title 2nd Time

The Pleasant Hill Rams under Coach George Galli won the Northern California Wrestling title for the second straight year.

They scored 40 points to edge Hayward High. Hayward had 35 points.

The meet held at Turlock high school found the Rams taking two individual titles.

Tom Foster won in the 175 pound class and Lennis Cowell at 123.

Foster won the 165 pound title last year while Cowell was second at 112.

Dave Moore was third at 127 while Dave Rockwell was third at 133 to round out the Rams place winners.

Mike Lee of Las Lomas won the 154 pound crown.

The Pirates grabbed a 14-10 first quarter lead and were never headed as they made it 27-19 at the half and 39-34 at the end of the third period of play.

Gaels Have to Win Final Three Games For Title Playoff

St. Mary's hurtled another obstacle in its quest for a league title by blasting the University of San Francisco with a second half blitz, 64-46 Saturday night at the Oakland Auditorium.

The Gaels now trail league leading Loyola by a half game with three games to play after winning their two games last week-end.

The Gaels have a 7-2 league record. Loyola is 8-2 and has two easy games left on its schedule. The Lions play winless Pacific to night and unimpressive Pepperdine Tuesday.

St. Mary's, on the other hand, has tough Santa Clara, point-stingy San Jose State plus University of Pacific to play in its remaining games.

A FIRST place tie between Loyola and St. Mary's is likely especially if the Gaels get by the tough Broncos tonight.

A sweep of their final games would give the two teams identical 10-2 final league marks.

If this happens a playoff between the two teams would decide the West Coast Athletic Conference representative in the Western Regionals of the NCAA basketball championships at Portland. In two league meetings the teams have traded home court wins.

St. Mary's scored an easy 92-61 win over the Lions at Moraga two weeks ago.

Probably the sternest test for for the Gaels will come tonight at the San Jose Civic Auditorium when they take on arch-rival Santa Clara.

THE GAELS nipped the Broncos in their last meeting, 56-52, at the Oakland Auditorium.

Santa Clara is one of the nation's top defensive teams and will be out to avenge its loss to the Gaels.

Tomorrow night St. Mary's entertains San Jose State at the friendly Moraga gym at 8 p.m. Tuesday the Gaels play Pacific at Stockton.

The Gaels jumped out in front early and were never headed as they won rather easily against the usually tough Spartans, who were ranked as the top defensive team in the nation prior to the game.

The Gaels led, 34-21, at the half.

All-American candidate Tom Meschery led St. Marys as usual. He scored 14 of his team's first 19 points and finished with 29 points for the night.

SENIOR guard Gene Womack finished with 13 points.

Saturday night at Oakland, the Gaels dumped San Francisco out of a second place tie in a rough and tumble battle.

The Dons had fallen from the top spot the night before when Santa Clara handed them their second league defeat, 51-45.

St. Mary's raced from a 30-25 halftime advantage into a commanding 46-29 lead by outscoring the Dons, 17-4, in the first nine minutes of the second half.

A BASKET and two free throws by center John Dalten were all the Dons could muster in the nine minute period.

Four field goals by forward Steve Gray featured the St. Mary's scoring spurt.

Meschery again topped the Gaels' scoring with 22 points. Gray had 17, Hamilton Holmes 12 and guard Tom Sheridan 11.

The First Birthday Is Sad

But Some Blind Person Is Happier for it . . .

By NORMAN COLBY

It's a sad day in the homes of local 4-H girls, the day when the puppy is one year-old.

But it's a good day for some blind person.

Eight girls in this area are raising and training puppies "loaned" to them by the Guide Dogs for The Blind, Inc., San Rafael, under the guidance of Mrs. Howard Hooper.

THE PUPS, which include German Shepherds and Labrador Retrievers, become the best guide dogs when they have been raised in a home atmosphere rather than a kennel, according to Mrs. Hooper.

From the age of 12 weeks to 12 months, the pups live normal, happy, doggy lives.

Then — back to the guide dog training center for "graduate work".

After that — a life of service equalled by few human beings.

WALNUT CREEK folk learned that Pleasant Hill and Orinda girls are taking their job of training the Guide Dog puppies seriously.

It was on a recent Saturday, when Broadway Shopping Center became a hubub of frisky pups and excited young ladies.

Mrs. Hooper, officially classified as a "puppy trainer", said, "It's important that the girls teach the dogs not only to obey commands, but to become accustomed to busy streets.

"Our trip through the shopping center disrupted the stores briefly, but I think some stores welcome the attention drawn to them. They were most cordial, really!

"I'll admit, though, that we did disturb the shoppers for a few minutes," she laughed.

The girls, under Mrs. Hooper's tutelage, drill their pups with commands like Heel! Stay! Down! Sit!

AND LISTENING to the commands, following the lead of the other dogs in the classes, the pups learn.

Every Saturday, Mrs. Hooper collects dogs and girls in a special class. Tomorrow's class will be in the Danville grange.

And next week, they will take a field trip to Port Chicago.

Getting their pups ready for this adventure are Nancy Spears of Orinda, with "Fisk", Pleasant Hill girls Susan Bryant with "Kathleen", Jean Althaus with "Francie", Terry Trechter with "Falla", Linda Kesterloot with "Joann", Pamela Cooper with "Cider".

ALSO CANDIE Galloway of Martinez with "Ford".

Mrs. Hooper is a member of the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club, and the idea for the local training program was started when she was contacted by Clarence Pasffenberger, Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., vice president.

He is in charge of the group's research and puppy placement.

It wasn't hard for him to convince Mrs. Hooper and 4-H leaders that the girls could do a good job assisting the pups during the formative months.

WHEN THE puppy leaves his Contra Costa home for the last time, he begins 15 months of intensive training at the San Rafael institution.

The final month or so has both the dog and his future blind master working and learning together.

After that, the puppy is no longer a puppy—he is in personal charge of a human being.

GOP Group Plans Party

"A Roman Holiday" is the theme of the spring cocktail party being planned by members of the Diablo Valley Republican Assembly.

The function will be held May 26 at the Rheem Estate. Games of skill with an ancient Roman "flavor" will provide entertainment for the 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. festivities.

Mrs. Dirk van der Burch, general chairman, names her committee as: Mrs. Thomas Van Voorhis and Mrs. Stanley Fraser, entertainment; Mrs. E. W. Palmer and Jack Symes, refreshments.

Mrs. Robert Munn, special events; Mrs. L. W. Selb, decorations; Mrs. Paul Heffernan, invitations; Mrs. Paul F. Bowman Jr., tickets; Mrs. Harold C. Bates, honored guests, and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson, publicity.

Luncheon meetings have been held at the homes of Mrs. van der Burch and Mrs. Van Voohis this month to make the initial plans for the event.

Tickets will go on sale in mid-April.

Shrine Club Plans March Benefit Party

Plans for the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital benefit party were outlined at a meeting of the officers and directors of Contra Costa County Shrine Club at Happy Valley Inn February 19.

Local directors present from Lafayette were Cliff Lamp and William Riggs, while Walnut Creek was represented by Chet Arthur, Don Nicholson, El Page and Bill Faulkner, secretary-treasurer of the club.

The meeting called to outline the hospital benefit party for next Friday at Concord Elks Club was presided over by the club's president, Tom Hazlett of Danville.

The definite date and place for the affair, as well as programming, was voted by a full complement of officers and directors who attended this preliminary meeting.

The benefit party will feature dinner dancing with music by "The Four Etudes."

"Scotty" Sang of Concord was appointed chairman, while Don Nicholson of Walnut Creek, Bill Martin of Antioch and Bill Riggs of Lafayette complete the committee.

Anyone wishing tickets or information about this Shrine event can call "Scotty" at MU 2-9165.

Dental Poster Contestants Get Awards

Judges for the Ninth Annual Dental Health Poster Contest in Contra Costa County were announced this week by Dr. Z. M. Stadt, assistant health officer and contest coordinator for the Dental Society.

They are Dr. Winston D. Bowman of the Contra Costa Dental Society, Mrs. Marguerite Irwin of Richmond, Edward W. Mertens, chairman, health and welfare committee of the Contra Costa Taxpayers Association, Robert E. Tumelty, director of health education services, California Dental Association, and Rudy Turk, director of the Richmond Art Center.

The contest was sponsored by the Contra Costa Dental Society, County Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Floyd I. Marchus, and the County Health Department.

Judging of the posters was held at the Richmond Art Center at 7 p.m. yesterday.

Sixty certificates were awarded in the county-wide finals, with one first prize, one second prize, and three honorable mentions for each grade. Cash prizes were awarded as follows: kindergarten-sixth grade group — first prize, $15; second prize, $10; and third prize, $5.

For the seventh-twelfth grade group — first prize, $25; second prize, $15; and third prize, $10. Both certificates and cash awards were provided by the county dental society.

Subject matter for kindergarten through fifth grades was any phase of dental health. The subject area for students in grades six through twelve was "fluoridation of public water supplies."

Announcement of county-wide prize winners will be made early in March.

Your Garden

Try for Variety When Planting Perennials

Gardeners who set out to plant perennials will too often stop with delphiniums, primroses and one or two others. Not that this isn't fine as far as it goes, but so many good perennials go a-begging each year that we'd like to bang the drum for them today.

We'll start the parade with a good word for gerbera—those dazzling Transvaal daisies that you see in almost any garden show. These are show pieces, and their lovely pastel colors merit space in every garden, bar none.

THE TALL wiry stems and fetching daisy blooms are not to be outshone in any company. Gerberas will succumb to poor drainage, so give them a slightly raised bed and don't bury the crowns. A member of the California Association of Nurserymen will show you how.

Penstemons, also, are too often overlooked. These shrubby plants thrive in hot summer sun if moisture is supplied. And the tall spikes of color are guaranteed to please you. They are half foxglove, half snapdragon in looks with a color range that runs the spectrum from white through pink and red to purple.

THERE IS nothing uncommon about Shasta daisies except that too few gardeners grow them. They are easy, in spite of this neglect, and the full white blooms come back every summer to repay the gardener in full for what little care he gives them. This consists of dividing the clumps when they crowd up.

Wonder of Etafa, an aster of modest habits, looks not unlike a blue marguerite. It is every bit as easy as marguerite and, indeed, goes will with it in the garden, the combination of yellow and blue contrasting nicely.

There are many others to make your garden different than your neighbor's—and all the nicer for it. Try fernleaf yarrow, English lavender, tall garden phlox. Once you've grown them, you'll come back for more—and different—perennials.

Prune Fuchsias During March

Here are some points for the gardener to consider this week.

You can prune fuchsias this month. They bloom on new wood, so don't be afraid to cut back the old growth.

You can cut back lantanas to keep the plants young looking, and discourage straggling.

Plant citrus in a warm sunny spot in the garden. Tubbed dwarf citrus is a colorful and fragrant addition to any garden.

It is possible to move camellias while in bloom, preferably before the new growth starts.

Plant all evergreen trees and shrubs and all bare-root deciduous shrubs that you can still find in nurseries. It's getting close to the end of the supply.

Greyhound Lines Eliminates 2nd And Folsom Stop

Contra Costa commute buses going to the Seventh Street terminal in San Francisco will not stop at Second and Folsom, Greyhound Bus Lines announced. This change is on a trial basis.

The stop has also been eliminated for buses coming from the Seventh Street Terminal back to Contra Costa.

And the schedule for these buses has been changed. Residents should call the stations nearest them for the new schedules.

Persons who formerly got off at Second and Folsom can take the Greyhound "trans-bay" service, which will drop them at the Trans-bay terminal on First Street, less than two blocks from Second and Folsom.

Miramonte Mirror

Dancing, Skiing or Movies, These Kids Have a Ball!

By SUSAN COX and CAROL PEDERSEN

The Bobolinks and Verios of Miramonte along with other junior units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will present "Twilight", tomorrow at the Mt. Diablo Junior College.

Tickets will be sold at the door, and a good time for all is guaranteed with every ticket. The Debs of Miramonte have planned a cake sale for March 18, delicious cakes for eating pleasure will be displayed for you. Mark your calendar today and remember to support the teenagers of your community.

MIRAMONTE beats Alhambra, 52-48! Viewers declared that it was quite a struggle and indeed a very exciting game. Miramonte battled the baskets with Piedmont Tuesday on our courts.

This was the last basketball game of the league, some were sad to see the end, for this is the last year of high school basketball which seemed to be so much a part of high school life and soon it will be over.

Some former students visited the Pine Grove teenage dance to inspect the up and coming frosh. A statement of one old timer, "they just don't seem to know how to dance anymore", "maybe we don't think so, but they sure do!"

TEENAGERS from the age of 14 to 20 will be running around Orinda and Lafayette asking for used bottles for the bottle drive to be held tomorrow. If you have been in the clouds and have missed the story of the 14-20 club, an explanation can easily be made as to its existence.

The numbers mean that any student from the ages of 14 and 20 is automatically a member of the club. The idea behind the bottle drive and car washes is to raise money for the recreation center that the teens themselves have organized.

Your support in these money raising activities will be greatly appreciated. All interested in working for the club on the bottle drive tomorrow meet at Miramonte High School at 10 a.m.

SUMMERTIME is again here and with it water skiing! Some of Miramonte's more ardent fans of this great sport were out last weekend taking an early summer try at it.

Among those attending were Sherry Croci & Andy DeGrassi, Bob Welch & Mary Moorehead (who by the way used this opportunity to try out her most prized Christmas present, a water ski).

A Sylvester Party for CATS was held Saturday night in Concord. Some of the wailers were John Walker & Kathy Stafford, Rick Layne & Tina Cole, Rich Lyman & Cinda Snell, John Riely & Pam Pearson, Peter Reed & Roxie Smith.

The music was heavy and the hall was alive with Sylvester and his band. Also soft drinks were served on the premises by Squire Fridell, who added extra entertainment. It has been quoted that throughout the whole evening only two dances were slow enough to allow one's feet to actually touch the floor.

AN EDUCATIONAL picture was seen by Miramonte's senior girls Friday night at the Pleasant Hill Drive-in. Amidst pickles and peanut brittle the girls were heard to exclaim that Ryder was a perfect specimen and yet others will argue that TV was by far the most outstanding.

Maybe you preferred Basil, but to form an opinion you would have had to have seen the movie. OH! those Ivy Leaguers!!!

Neighbors Awaken As Spring Burst Forth

By YVONNE MAUZEY — DR 6-4083

Spring is busting out all over, and it's sure a sight to behold. The trees of the valley are beginning to bloom and leaf again and the houses crouch down into their nests of shrubbery.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD is bustling, with ambition. In each yard almost every member of a family is working and pausing to talk to a neighbor or a passing friend.

Lawns are being fertilized, ground turned, and new shrubs planted. Weeding is a major problem for everything lay dormant during the winter but the weeds.

Fashion show activities are starting and groups are planning trips throughout the neighborhood. The present summer weather has even started plans of summer vacationing among a few of our neighbors. Spring is here and we all come out of our cocoons and dens of hibernation.

NEXT MONTH the John Muir Hospital Guild is planning "A Day at The Races" to be held at Golden Gate Fields, Turf Club. This will be a luncheon and fashion show to raise funds for the new hospital.

The date is March 23 at 12 p.m. Luncheon will be served in the Turf Club, while Rose Marie Reid's beautiful new swim suit collection is modeled. The price, $5 a person, includes parking, entrance to the Turf Club and track, fashion show and luncheon.

After luncheon and the fashion show, those who wish will adjourn to the track. For tickets to this affair contact Jean Bates DR 6-5086.

JEAN BATES and Carol Merlone and a group of officers of the Republican Women's Club will attend the Northern Division meeting of the Club to be held at the Villa in San Mateo. The group will receive their charter for the new Republican Women's Club.

Any new residents of the area interested in joining may call Carol Merlong President DR 6-4538 or Jean Bates.

The Republican Women will hold their membership tea March 21 at the Rheem Estate.

The Bond Election group would like to send a great big THANK YOU to all who worked on the bond election. Many, many people put forth much effort and their work has paid off. Congratulation on a job well done.

BROWNIE TROOP 71 led by Faye Parker took a trip to the Moraga Post Office last week. They saw the Post office and our Post Mistress, Eleanor Dickenson in action. Eleanor loves children and enjoys showing the children the many processes of the Post Office.

Troop 71 is planning a trip to the San Francisco zoo during Easter vacation. The trip will be held March 27 and the 12 Brownies will be transported via cars from our area to the zoo.

This troop is sure busy. Faye informs me she has also written for tickets to take the group to see the "Mr. Bob" TV show. This should be something for the girls to see. Besides seeing their friend Mr. Bob they will learn much about a TV station in action.

HAVE YOU BEEN by the new Camino Pablo school lately? The walls are up and they are working on the roof. The school is really taking shape. During this beautiful weather they can forge on full steam ahead.

The Junior Horsemen are in the process of choosing their color guard for 1961. This is quite a process of trials and matching of horses etc. As you know the sets of four won against competition from all over last year at the Cow Palace, and the horsemen hope to repeat again this year with the new color guard. So much thought is going into the choosing of the guard.

LAST YEAR'S color guard will be training to compete in other trials for next year's competition. The Junior Horsemen are planning a snow trip above Sonora tomorrow. The date for the annual horse show to be held in Bolger Canyon has been set for May 21. This will be an all day affair with a barbecue dinner for those who stay the day or just come to dinner. Hot dogs, soft drinks etc. will be provided for the nibblers.

JEAN BATES, president of the John Muir Hospital Guild, Sunday saw the ground breaking for the John Muir Hospital site on Ygnacio Valley Road in Walnut Creek. The site is on a beautiful view 10 acre plot that should add much to future patients' stays.

The ceremony was held at 2 p.m. February 26. Reverend Stacy of St. Anselm's Episcopal church in Lafayette delivered the invocation. Mayor Frank Marshall also gave a short talk. Mayor Marshall is a member of the local Hospital Directors.

Dr. Hansen and members of the board of trustees were in charge of the ground breaking.

Reverend Robert Williams of Grace Presbyterian Church of Walnut Creek gave the benediction.

Work on the site is scheduled to start in about a month.

The Junior Horsemen had a great time at their Valentine Dance "Hearts and Horseshoes" held in the old school February 10. They had a party and games for the children through age 12. The older children 13 and up stayed for dancing to the Hi Fi for the rest of the evening.

YOUR EDUCATION chairman, Lenore Morhmann, would like to know your reaction to the Spanish program in our school. Your suggestions and likes or dislikes. Call her DR 6-4182.

Brenda Bradley "Ways & Means" is planning a swim and luncheon for the mothers at the Rheem Estate in June. This is a general fun day with prizes and bridge for those who play.

Mrs. Latham's fourth grade has won the attendance prize, put up by the Parents Club, three times. This is a real record.

MARCELLA COLLINS has been selected as Nominating Committee chairman. Anyone interested in putting in their name or a name of a friend for next year's Parent Club Board may call Marcella.

Henry Newhall has been chosen as the Auditing Committee chairman.

PTA Has Founder's Day Program

Vallecito PTA held its Founder's Day program at the school on February 15. The guest speaker, Dr. Charlotte Gill of Berkeley, scheduled to speak on "Ten Steps to Mental Health," was unable to be present due to illness.

William Knight, principal, led an impromptu discussion on certain aspects of the civil defense program and the arithmetic program which was put into effect in Lafayette schools this year.

AN HONORARY life membership was awarded to Mrs. May Summers, a sixth grade teacher at the school. Mrs. Summers has taught in Lafayette schools for 13 years.

The nominating committee, Barbara Connell, Marge Olson and Daisy Parsons, presented the following names for consideration for next year's officers:

Mrs. John K. Hansen, president; Mrs. Ernest W. Davis, first vice president; William H. Knight, second vice president; Mrs. Philip Diamond, third vice president; Mrs. Nancy Kennedy, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Bentley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Sturgeon, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Lorber, auditor; Mrs. Velma Robinson, historian; Mrs. Ralph Sheneman, parliamentarian, and Nancy Baxter, delegate to council.

Carroll Ranch Has New Management

Tom and Jean Carroll of the Carroll Ranch have announced their retirement from active management of the ranch as of Wednesday.

They have leased the operation of the club and facilities to a new management group, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Blodgett. Operation of the club and facilities will continue as usual with the same membership rates.

Improvements for the ranch planned by the new manager include a proposed driving range located near the fire station, with the existing creek being culverted and filled in from the fire house to the entrance road.

In addition, improvements are planned on the existing swimming pool and dressing rooms and a new pro shop will be built adjoining the driving range, complete with lounge facilities.

The existing club house will have improvements and renovations and will still be available for banquets and catered parties.

Servicemen Are in Training

During the 10 weeks of training students are instructed in aviation science, navigation, principles of flight and other technical courses to prepare them for their future roles as naval aviators.

Upon completion of pre-flight students undergo primary flight training at Saufley Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station near Pensacola.

MARINE PVT. Jan B. Roddick, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Roddick of 831 Acalanes Road, completed four weeks of individual combat training, Feb. 3, at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The course included the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons.

Trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers, or with aviation units.

One Mental Health Group Is Formed

Members of the two Mental Health Associations in Contra Costa County voted February 15 to approve the joint board of directors' recommendation to form one county-wide association.

According to Dr. Anita Uhl Brothers, president of West Contra Costa Mental Health Association, and B. O. Wilson, president of Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association, there were no dissenting votes. The majority of members voted by proxy.

The members voted to dissolve the two existing associations, approved the new association and the joint board of directors of the new association to serve until the next annual meeting and election.

The time for the annual meeting will be announced following next Thursday's board of directors meeting.

"Young Couples and New Families" will be discussed by the Education Committee of the Contra Costa Mental Health Association Thursday at 8 p.m. in the library annex, Civic Center, 24th and Nevin, Richmond.

Heart Fund Drive Being Tabulated

Dr. Floyd B. Marchus, 1961 Heart Fund chairman, expressed hope that results from the February drive for the Contra Costa County Heart Association will exceed contributions of 1960.

A total of $62,300 was collected last year. This was an 11 per cent increase over 1959.

The month-long drive for funds to support the association's research, education and community service program was concluded Tuesday.

Climax was the county-wide Heart Sunday residential drive when about 6000 volunteers made calls on their neighbors.

A Heart-Days for Business drive was held earlier in the month when businessmen made a canvass of business areas. In many communities this was the first effort of this kind.

Volunteers are in the process of tabulating results in all areas. Final results cannot be expected until mail contributions can be included. Canvassers left "not-at-home" envelopes in homes whose occupants were away on Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Marchus said generally 10 per cent of the total is collected from mail contributions. He urged early mailing of return envelopes to help swell the total Heart Fund results. These may be mailed to the Heart Association or simply addressed "Heart — Care of Postmaster."

Artist's Guild Slates Exhibit For March 11-17

Work of the Artist's Guild of the Valley Art Center will be shown March 11 to 17 in the Diablo Pageant of Arts building, Walnut Creek Civic Center. Robert Jensen of Orinda, watercolorists and teacher, is president of the newly formed Artist's Guild.

Membership is open to any artist who has had at least three juried shows, Jensen announced. For the March exhibit members may submit one painting, or sculptures or crafts. The Artist's Guild was formed to advise the directors in planning the year-round art program, exhibits, prizes, juries, the rental gallery and additions to the permanent collection of the Valley Art Center.

Assisting Robert Jensen as a steering committee of the Artist's Guild are Peter Blos, portrait and landscape painter, Berkeley; Jonathan Batchelor, portrait and landscape painter, Canyon; Inez Butz, ceramist, Danville; Blanche Brody, Orinda, painter and chairman of the rental gallery; Sylvia Fine, painter, Pleasant Hill; David Harris, jewelry, Alamo; Lyle Lund, sculptor, painter and teacher, Lafayette.

Paintings displayed at the Valley Art Rental Gallery, now in larger quarters at the Mosiac Mart, 3384 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette, include many by members of the Artist's Guild.

Mrs. Thomas Boothe, Lafayette, was appointed general chairman of the Artist's Guild Show at the February meeting of the Valley Art Women's Board held at the Orinda. Assisting Mrs. Boothe William Wilkinson's home in will be Mrs. Joseph Brady, Mrs. James Funk, Mrs. John Gilmour, Mrs. Peter Howard, Mrs. A. P. Merrill, Mrs. Arnold Sanders and Mrs. William Wilkinson.
